CHAMBERLAIN HOPES FOR TERMINATION OF WAR SCARE HORROR

Halting of Campaign of Poisonous Propaganda Seen by British Prime Minister as First Requsite For Ironing Out World's Problems by Peaceful Discussion Among Statesmen

LONDON, July 31 (CP).—Prime Minister Chamberlain today printed a gloomy picture of the world situation, but said he believed the vision of war horrors was sinking into the minds of rulers and people alike and for this reason he hoped "we may yet find a way to escape from this nightmare."

Presenting the most comprehensive statement he had made in international questions in two months, the Prime Minister asserted.

"One must admit that the situation in which the accumulation of weapons of war is going on, on so many sides, and at such a pace, is one which cannot but be regarded with anxiety.

"It is difficult to see what the solution of this problem can be unless it is to be resolved by war itself."

PROPAGANDA BLAMED

The Prime Minister expressed the belief, however, that if the campaign of "poisonous propaganda" could be halted and the confidence of the people restored "in the peaceful intention of all statesmen in Europe" the world's problems might then be ironed out by peaceful discussion.

Speaking during a foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons, he expressed concern over anti-British agitation in North China and said that if this continued it would be difficult to bring Anglo-Japanese negotiations in Tokio to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Chamberlain said his Government felt "no undue concern" over the Danzig situation, but that it would require careful watching.

He announced that Britain and France would send a joint military

MAKE SHOW AT EMBASSY

Accuse British of Backing Down on Agreement—Progress at Conference

TOKIO, July 31 (AP).—An agreement on police measures at Tientsin was reached in Anglo-Japanese negotiations today, while 15,000 Japanese paraded and demonstrated outside the British Embassy.

The demonstration was similar to that of July 14, on the eve of the beginning of negotiations, when 50,000 Japanese sang and shouted anti-British slogans.

BRITISH DENOUNCED

Speakers at two mass meeting denounced the British for their stiff attitude on the question of support of Chinese currency, and accused Britons of backing down on their preliminary agreement to respect the special necessities of Japan's army in China.

The marchers, however, were kept at a safe distance from the embassy's iron gates by a reinforced guard.

Progress in negotiations was made despite a deadlock that developed over British support of Chinese currency in the blockaded British and French concessions at Tientsin.

AMERICAN WOMAN SEARCHED

TSINGTAO, China, July 31 (AP).—Searching of an American woman by Japanese-controlled Chinese customs authorities was reported today.

Mrs. Sadie Wilhoit, Shanghai resident holidaying at Tsingtao, said she was searched and detained briefly by customs agents, who confiscated nearly 200 Chinese dollars (about $16). The Japanese are trying to suppress this currency.

ON BRIEF VISIT OF INSPECTION

Air Marshal W. A. Bishop Views Work at Patricia Bay Airport

Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., D.S.O., D.F.C., senior member of the Dominion Advisory Air Council, paid a brief visit to Victoria yesterday in the course of a tour of inspection of military airports throughout Canada.

He came principally to inspect the military airport now under construction at Patricia Bay and said afterwards that he was pleased with the progress of work there.

Air Marshal Bishop, who had not visited Victoria for several years, was met yesterday morning by Brigadier J. C. Stewart, district officer commanding Military District No. 11, when he landed at Esquimalt. In the afternoon he flew back to Vancouver, and before returning East will visit Prince Rupert to inspect military airdrome developments there.

During his stay here Air Marshal Bishop visited Work Point Barracks, lunched at the Union Club, and called on Hon. E. W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor, at Government House, in addition to inspecting the Patricia Bay airport. He was accompanied by Group-Captain G. O. Johnson and Wing-Commander A. D. Bell-Irving, of the Jericho Beach station of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

SOPWITH WINS BY DISQUALIFICATION

American Yacht Leads by Wide Margin at Finish—Foul Claim Upheld

COWES, England, July 31 (CP).—T. O. M. Sopwith's Tomahawk was awarded the victory over Harold S. Vanderbilt's Vim, late tonight, by the Royal London Yacht Club, on the decision that the Vim be disqualified for a foul at the starting line.

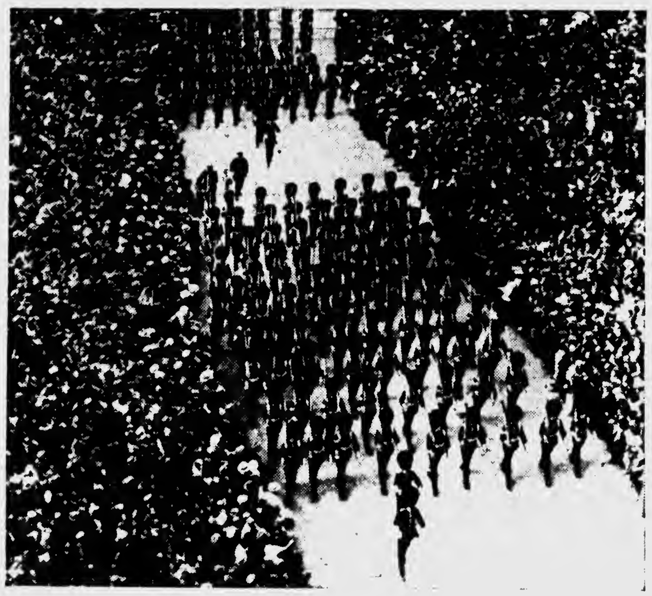

The Vim led by a wide margin in the twenty-seven-mile race for twelve-metre-class boats, and the victory was believed to have been easily won by the American boat.

However after considering the case for nearly three hours, the committee upheld the protest that Vim crowded the Tomahawk by altering her helm as they sailed across the starting line.

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—Kensuke Horinouchi, the Japanese Ambassador, asked State Secretary Cordell Hull today for clarification of Hull's notice of termination of the 1911 Treaty of Commerce and Navigation between the United States and Japan.

NINE PERISH BY DROWNING

Hot Weather Blamed for Tragedies in Western Canada

WINNIPEG, July 31 (CP).—Western Canada's week-end death toll rose to nine tonight as sun-blotting clouds brought a measure of relief from the scorching heat which drove thousands to the cool retreats of lakes and rivers. Drowning caused all of the deaths.

Four of the water accidents took place in Saskatchewan, three in Alberta and one each in Manitoba and British Columbia.

L. Checkik, twenty-six, drowned in Osoyoos Lake, near Oliver, B.C., on Sunday. Details of the accident were not available at once. Checkik was known in Vancouver and Winnipeg, where his family lives.

Seeking respite from the warmth Lorne Hall, twenty-five-year-old harvester from Point St. Charles, Montreal, lost his life today in the Red River at Winnipeg.

DROWNS IN LAKE

The body of William Thistlewaite, twenty-eight, was recovered today from Fir Lake in the Canwood district of Saskatchewan.

Fever Fatal To Canadian Missionary

PIEPING, July 31 (CP).—Minnie Shipley, London, Ont., missionary, died of typhoid fever in a hospital at Chengteh, in Honan Province, it was learned here today.

Anti-British demonstrators were reported to have picketed the mission hospital, turning out all the nurses so that no one was left to care for Miss Shipley. Other patients were forced to return to their homes, and the hospital was reported closed.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Shipley, London, Miss Shipley returned to her work in China early this year after a year's furlough in Canada. Miss Shipley first went to Honan Province in 1914.

Railway Bandits' Gun Battle Ends In Crew's Favor

Attempt Made to Rob Speeding Train of United States Army Payroll—Mail Clerk Opens Fire After Companion Had Been Knocked to The Floor—Robber Is Wounded

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., July 31 (AP).—A pair of bandits attempted to seize a $56,000 United States Army payroll on a speeding train today, but were routed after a gun battle with the mail car crew.

One of the robbers was shot and broke his leg before he was captured. His companion was believed wounded, but escaped in an automobile driven by a confederate.

One of the raiders pounded a mail clerk on the head with a pistol butt.

State highway police immediately formed a road blockade in an effort to intercept the fugitive and his chauffeur.

MAIL CLERK HERO

Earl Boothman, mail clerk, who played a heroic role in the gun fight, gave this account of the foray:

The bandits, in overalls, boarded the "blinds" of a four-car Illinois Central passenger train bound from Chicago to Champaign, at Onarga, Ill., eighty-three miles south of Chicago.

As the train pulled out they entered the combination mail-baggage car, intent upon taking a $56,000 bundle of currency consigned to the United States Army's Technical Air School at Rantoul.

One knocked Mail Clerk Guy O'Hern, of Chicago, to the floor. He

PARTY CARRIES MAN TO SAFETY

Alexander Walker Taken From Mountainside to Courtenay

COURTENAY, B.C., July 31 (CP).—A rescue party today brought Alexander Walker, of Victoria, out of the wilderness of Forbidden Plateau, where the sixty-five-year-old machinist collapsed last week at an altitude of 4,000 feet.

Part of the tricky descent with Walker—weakened by three days and nights without food or water as he awaited help—was down a 2,000-foot cliff so steep the party had to ease its way along with a 500-foot rope.

Walker, whose plight became known when a partner hiked to this East Coast Vancouver Island town last Wednesday, was reported stronger after several days' rest, and it was believed he would not require hospital attention on arrival here, probably some time this evening.

HAD LITTLE WATER

"There was a little trickle of water about 100 feet away," Walker said. "It took about an hour to run a cupful the day Aitken left.

"The next day I crawled the 100 feet. It took most of an afternoon I was so weak—but the trickle had dried up overnight, and from then on I didn't have any."

Walker was fervent in his appreciation for the efforts of British Columbia Police and other members of the rescue party which reached him last Thursday after he had been alone on the plateau for more than three days.

ARE DEMANDING HEAVY DAMAGES

Radio Comedian Cited as Defendant in Suit for Alleged Assault

LOS ANGELES, July 31 (AP).—An echo of a March 27 disturbance in a Hollywood broadcasting studio was heard today with the filing of a $751,000 damage suit against Eddie Cantor, screen and radio comedian.

Plaintiffs in the action were Charles Gollob, apartment house manager, and his wife, Mrs. Elsie Gollob, who stated they went to the studio to hear Cantor broadcast. When the broadcast ended they stated they arose to leave only to be accosted by a young woman employed by the broadcasting company, who asked them why they were leaving so soon.

NOT INTERESTED

When the Gollobs informed the young woman they had seen other broadcast programmes before and were not much interested in personal affairs, the plaintiffs said, the woman called for a bodyguard who struck down Mrs. Gollob, referring to her as a Nazi.

Gollob, the complaint charged, attempted to protect his wife but was set upon by Bert Gordon, Cantor's assistant, known professionally as the "Mad Russian."

The complaint includes as defendants Gordon, the Reynolds Tobacco Company, sponsors of the programme, and the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Cantor was sued under his purported true name of Isador Iskowitch.

U.S. Lending Bill Is Reduced by Millions As Passed by Senate

Reductions Constitute Greatest Triumph for Economy Bloc Since New Deal Began—Congress May Adjourn on Saturday

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—The United States Administration lending bill, stripped of more than a billion dollars of proposed loans, was passed by the Senate late today and moved on to an uncertain fate in the House of Representatives.

Waiting there was just such a combination of Republican and Democratic economy advocates as that which controlled procedure in the Senate and reduced the programme's total to $1,615,000,000.

The original Administration Bill had called for $2,800,000,000.

The House of Representatives rules committee voted, six to four, to send the legislation to the House floor tomorrow. Then, the subject of debate will be the version of the bill approved by the House banking committee. It cut the programme to $1,950,000,000.

HOUSING BILL OPPOSED

The House leadership had planned to bring up the Administration's $800,000,000 Housing Bill tomorrow, but decided to make room for the lending measure. There is extensive opposition to the Housing Bill, and many opponents contended it had been abandoned for the session.

If that were the case, it appeared Congress might adjourn on Saturday night.

Cut from the bill by the Senate's bi-partisan economy bloc in the course of a week's debate were:

$500,000,000 for loans for highways and transportation improvements.

$350,000,000 with which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was to have purchased railroad equipment for lease to the carriers.

$25,000,000 for the export-import bank's foreign loans.

OVERRIDES ADMINISTRATION

The economy bloc overrode the Administration leadership to write into the measurme a provision the bonds issued by the R.F.C. should be subject to State and Federal income taxes. Many speculated whether this might not have a restrictive effect upon the programme, because to obtain the money for the loans the R.F.C. would have to float taxable bonds in competition with tax-free Government securities.

Although the economy bloc was defeated almost two to one on the question of final passage, the reductions made in the bill represented the group's greatest triumph since the New Deal began.

HELD IMPORTANT POST

Sir Charles Gordon was one of the greatest single factors in Canadian finance and business over a long term of years through his association with the Bank of Montreal and textile and glass manufacturing enterprises. During the war he occupied a commanding position through places on the Canadian Munitions Board and as representative both at Ottawa and Washington of the British Ministry of Munitions. Probably no one man, not even in Great Britain and the United States, supervised such huge expenditures as were spent by Sir Charles during the great conflict. Contracts involving many hundreds of millions of dollars came up to him for his ratification. They dealt with war supplies which the Allied Governments purchased in Canada and the United States.

The business life of Sir Charles Blair Gordon was the romance of the rise of the Dominion Textile Company and Penman's, Limited, the first the dominating cotton manufacturing enterprise in Canada, and the second a large concern which turned the cotton into garments, and the Dominion Glass Company, which controls most of the glass manufacturing plants in the Dominion. Industries which grew into great employers of labor and were possessed of assets approximating more than $50,000,000, were the results of consolidations of small, competing concerns, which Sir Charles and the group of capitalists whom he interested were able to merge into financially strong corporations. The work of organizing the companies mentioned as they are at present and of which he became president was practically, in its inception, the labor of Sir Charles alone.

MAN OF VISION

Sir Charles Gordon, long before he was to see his plans for the Dominion Textile Company come to fruition and many years before his war work, was known in Montreal as a man of vision, one newspaper referring to him as having outstripped most men of his age and another as a practical expert who knew the cotton business from beginning to end. He had begun his association with cotton by organizing a little company known as the Standard Shirt Company in Montreal in 1896 and by acquiring one after the other competing companies in that city. It was in 1903 that the Dominion Textile Company was formed. Later he was to acquire with his associates a controlling interest in Penman's, Limited, which itself was to absorb a number of cotton goods manufacturing enterprises and which provided an outlet for the cotton manufactured by Dominion Textile.

In 1913 the Dominion Glass Company came into existence and was ultimately to take over half a dozen plants located in Montreal, Que.; Hamilton, Ont.; Wallaceburg, Ont.; Beauséjour, Man., and Redcliff, Alta.

When the war broke out in 1914 C. B. Gordon was president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. With the same organizing vision which had enabled him to weave a successful business out of the textile companies his group of financiers had come to control, he took office with the Canadian Munitions Board and gave advice on methods to be adopted to meet the great calls to be made on Canadian industry for war supplies. As a director of the Bank of Montreal, he was invited to advise the Dominion Government on the question of credits the British Government established for the financing of war purchases in Canada.

PERSONAL CONTRIBUTION

A personal contribution to Canada's naval reserve, for which he was thanked by the Dominion Parliament, was the loan of his yacht, fully manned, for coastal service during the war. With H. V. (afterwards Sir Vincent) Meredith and H. R. Drummond, of Montreal, Mr. Gordon financed the equipment of the Canadian Motor Machine Gun Corps, which, in 1918, after doing fine work in a number of minor engagements, was reported in dispatches to have taken an enormous toll of lives when the Germans made their last great attack on the Allied lines.

When the Order of the British Empire was formed for those who had earned distinction in war work in 1917, a knight commander's rank was conferred on Mr. Gordon. He became a knight in the same order the following year.

Taking full advantage of Sir Charles' organizing ability, the British Government sent him to Washington as representative of the British Ministry of Munitions. As chairman of the British mission in Canada, he supervised Allied purchases in the Dominion during and after the war.

Sir Charles succeeded to the presidency of the Bank of Montreal in 1928 on the retirement of Sir Vincent Meredith. He had been a vice-president for a number of years. He was rated as a multi-millionaire in financial circles in Canada and probably was one of the three wealthiest men in the country.

BORN IN MONTREAL

He was born in Montreal, the son of John and Jane Gordon, November 22, 1868. He was educated at the public and high schools, and from them went into the employment of McIntyre Sons & Company, a drygoods house, as a clerk. It was from employment in this concern that he went to organize the Standard Shirt Company. He married in 1897 Miss Annie Brooks, of Seaforth, Ont., by whom he had three sons, George Blair, Charles Harold and John.

Sir Charles was a great lover of sports and his widespread interest in them can be gathered from the fact that he belonged to yachting, golf and tennis clubs in Montreal. He owned a castle in the Scottish Highlands, near the home of his ancestors, and spent many of his Summers there.

As a governor of McGill University, he played his part in campaigns which secured money necessary to enable the university to expand and develop.

Below is a picture of the youngberries, which resemble the loganberry in color and shape but which are about twice their size. The youngberry is not as acid as the loganberry and has smaller seeds. Mr. Thompson put out his first canes three years ago, and has met with considerable success; as have others in the district who have tried the berry.

POLICE CHECK ON REPORTED THEFTS

Investigate Five Week-End Burglaries—Candy Stores Entered And Radio Stolen

Police reports show that investigation was made into five burglaries during the week-end.

Ann Doucette reported that her candy store, at the corner of Belleville and Douglas Streets, was entered on Sunday night, and cigarettes and confectionery to the value of $77.14 stolen. Police found that entrance had been gained by removing the rear door padlock and smashing the door to release the catch.

W. J. Cull, 2033 Cadboro Bay Road, reported that his candy stand at Royal Athletic Park had been raided, and a quantity of cigarettes, ice cream and soft drinks stolen.

Police attended a call to the Standard Garage yesterday morning, where B. G. Robinson reported that a car radio was missing, the premises apparently having been entered during the week-end.

Harold Morgan, of Buckerfield's, Limited, 2100 Douglas Street, reported the store entered during the week-end by removing two small panes of glass on the north side of the building. Nothing was found to be missing.

Two E. & N. freight cars, on the tracks near the Wharf Street station, were reported to have been entered on Sunday.

HIS PLEASURE

The henpecked plumber rang the bell. The master and the mistress of the house came to the door together. As they all three stood in the hall, the husband—a methodical man—announced: "I wish, before you go upstairs, to acquaint you with my trouble."

The plumber shyly dropped his eyes.

"Pleased to meet yer, ma'am," he mumbled as he held out his hand to the wife.

W. PETRIE GIVES TALK ON STARS

Explains Ways of Computing Distances at Astronomical Society Meeting

"Astronomical distances are so great that they are almost meaningless unless expressed in terms of analogy," William Petrie, U.B.C. science student and assistant secretary of the Victoria Centre, Royal Astronomical Society, told a large gathering of amateur astronomers at the society's public lecture at Victoria College last night.

Mr. Petrie, speaking on the subject, "How Distant Are the Stars?," made use of the method of analogy to try to give some impression of the magnitude of astronomical distances, and computed the length of time it would take to reach the moon and other heavenly bodies by various ordinary means of travel.

Owing to the vastnesses of astronomical distances, he said, the mile, ordinary unit of terrestrial measurement, had been considered unsatisfactory for astronomers. Expressed in this unit, the nearest star was approximately twenty-five million million miles away. Figures such as this were impractical to work with, and the light year, equalling six million million miles, had been selected as a more convenient unit.

METHODS EXPLAINED

Mr. Petrie explained the methods used by astronomers to compute the distances from the earth of the various celestial bodies. Among these were the surveyors' method of triangulation, the base line method, the parallax method and the luminosity parallax method. The last named had to be used for estimating the distances of nearly all stars.

Following the address, there was a question period, and a practical demonstration of star-finding was given.

mission — probably this week — to Moscow to start staff talks with Soviet Russia in the hope that such a move would help remove difficulties holding up the proposed British-French-Soviet Russian mutual assistance pact.

The British mission will be composed of Admiral Sir Reginald Plunkett-Ernle-Erle-Drax, Air Marshal Sir Charles Burnet and Major-General John Haywood.

At the conclusion of debate the House, by a vote of 266 to 130, rejected a Liberal motion assailing the Government's foreign policy.

DISTINGUISHED CAREER

LONDON, July 31 (CP).—Into proletarian Moscow, Great Britain is sending a member of Ireland's aristocracy with a long string of family names, a Czarist title and a distinguished career in war and peace to participate in the General Staff talks that may lead to a European peace front.

He is Admiral Sir Reginald Aylmer Ranfurly Plunkett-Ernle-Erle-Drax, recently named principal naval aide-de-camp to the King, second son of the late John William, seventeenth Baron of Dunsany, which claims common ancestry with the noble House of Fingall in Ireland in Sir Christopher Plunkett, Deputy Governor of Ireland in 1432.

The admiral, who is fifty-nine, went to sea in 1896 and became a lieutenant in 1901. He was appointed commander in 1912 and served afloat throughout the Great War. He was aboard H.M.S. Lion at the Heligoland action, participated in the Battle of Jutland and was awarded the Order of St. Stanislas by Czar Nicholas.

Admiral Drax was a visitor to Victoria when he was vice-admiral and commander in chief of the Americas and West Indies Station from 1932 to 1934. He spent several days in the city and paid the customary formal calls on the Mayor of the city and the Lieutenant-Governor.

Transportation Committee Will Meet Tomorrow

THE Greater Victoria committee on transportation will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, it was announced by Mayor Andrew McGavin yesterday. The meeting has been called to enable city and municipal representatives to confer on the form of tender to be adopted for submission to the various councils for approval, before tenders are called for a unified system of transportation.

Saanich Firemen Active Quelling Incendiary Fires

Likelihood that Victoria's "firebug" had transferred his activities to Saanich was indicated yesterday when four outbreaks were reported in the municipality between 1:30 a.m. and 9:20 p.m.

At two of the fires, one a grass and bush blaze at the corner of Gorge and Admirals Roads last night, and the other a bush fire at Coopers Road and Colquitz Avenue, early yesterday morning, a suspicious character was seen.

Saanich firemen expressed the opinion that an incendiarist was active in the municipality and had set the fires.

At 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, three and one-half acres of grass and bush were burned at the corner of Douglas Street and Sevenoaks Road, and at 6:30 p.m. another grass fire necessitated attention at the corner of Orillia Street and Burnside Road.

Lawrence reached shore safely.

CORAL IN PEACE RIVER

HARCOURT, Alta., July 31 (CP).—Reminder of the ancient warm sea which once covered the Peace River district, a coral fossil was found last week on the McNaught farm near this Peace River settlement. It appeared to be of the same minute animal composition as reefs and islands in the South Seas now.

RESERVES MAN BRITISH SHIPS

Twelve Thousand Men Answer Summons for Two Months' Special Duty

LONDON, July 31 (CP).—Twelve thousand naval reserves poured into Devonport, Portsmouth and Chatham today to man 133 ships of the reserve fleet and reinforce the regular units of Great Britain's navy.

By night the work of fueling and equipping the cruisers, destroyers and patrol craft was under way. In a few days the reserve fleet will start for Weymouth Bay, where it will assemble for inspection by the King on August 9.

The huge mobilization of sea power will not end with the review. After that the reserve fleet is to exercise with regular men-of-war of the home fleet and remain on "emergency footing" through August and most of September.

Britain, which called up 30,000 conscripts a few days ago, took the turnout of naval reserves in its stride. The reservists filtered out of London by twos and threes for their various stations. At camps each man was given a cup of tea, a bun and 5s. It was the biggest turnout of naval reserves since 1924.

Flower Judge to Address Meeting

"The Preparation of Flowers for Exhibition" will be the subject of an address by George A. Robinson, of Royal Oak, to members of the Victoria Horticultural Society at a meeting at the City Hall tonight. Mr. Robinson, who is a well-known seed grower and flower judge, will give the address in place of Rev. Robert Connell, who was to have been the guest speaker. A short business session will precede the address, and an invitation is extended by officers of the society to anyone interested to attend the meeting.

MISSOURI—"SHOW ME" STATE

"I'm from Missouri—you've got to show me," formost among Americanisms and the apotheosis of skepticism is not quite half a century old.

Velocity of circulation was given to the words when Willard D. Vandiver, Congressman from Missouri during the period 1897 to 1905, addressing the Five o'Clock Club in Philadelphia just before the turn of the century, said humorously:

"I come from a country that raises corn, cotton, cockleburs and Democrats. I'm from Missouri, and you've got to show me."

Whether or not Congressman Vandiver originated the line is moot, the gentleman himself rather thought he did. Nevertheless, though he is generally given credit for its present state of preservation and perpetuity, there are those who maintain that the expression evolved before his epochal utterance, during the course of a strike of zinc and lead miners in Leadville, Colorado.

To keep their plants going the owners requisitioned the services of Missouri strikebreakers. These were unfamiliar with local conditions and continually warned the operators: "I'm from Missouri, you'll have to show me." Or the operators would say to their overseers: "This man is from Missouri, you'll have to show him."

In any event, regardless of who furnished the initial impetus for the phrase, it achieved so much publicity and popularity throughout the United States, that Missouri became known as the Show Me State.

Mr. Watts sang two groups, the first including three songs by Vaughan Williams: "Vagabond," "Bright Is the Ring of Words" and "Roadside Fire"; and the second, with trio accompaniment, including the Mendelssohn aria, "It is Enough," Handel's "Silent Worship" and Lane Wilson's arrangement of Munro's "My Lovely Celia."

The pianist of the ensemble Miss Beth Emery, played Brahms' Rhapsody in G Minor, Barron's "An Irish Lullaby" and Ibert's "The Little White Donkey."

The other members of the instrumental ensemble were Edgar Glyde, violinist, and Mildred Johnston, cellist.

Reeve Lockley Says Transportation Is Difficult Question

Tells Esquimalt Council Solution of Inter-Municipal Franchise Problem Is Not as Simple as City of Victoria Believes

SOLUTION of the transportation question in the city of Victoria and adjoining municipalities is not quite as simple as the city imagines, Reeve Alex Lockley said last night upon receipt by the Esquimalt Council of a communication from the city clerk, M. F. Hunter, stating that the City Council had approved the report of the inter-municipal transportation committee.

In a statement to the councillors the reeve said, "The present inter-municipal committee on transportation has no official standing, and the final decision on all matters must rest with the individual councils.

"We shall have to consider our legal position, notwithstanding the enabling legislation of last year; a more definite survey of what we require and what we have to offer prospective tenderers, and an adjustment of the difficulties in Saanich, where the Vancouver Island Coach Lines holds the franchise until 1954.

PERPETUAL RIGHTS

"The status of the B.C. Electric Railway Company will have to be given some consideration, as it has, apparently, perpetual rights in at least three of the municipalities.

"There are so many difficulties and pitfalls that demand very careful consideration and attention, that it may still be necessary to seek further powers by legislation, and if this is unnecessary, I feel further reference to the Public Utilities Board, or the act creating it, is essential.

"There is no reason to rush into this thing, every point should be considered," Reeve Lockley concluded.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the council will meet again to discuss the question in detail and give instructions to the reeve, who was appointed official representative of Esquimalt on the inter-municipal transportation committee, which will meet tomorrow.

SEWERAGE QUESTION

The council expressed itself as loath to enter the controversy between Victoria and Saanich over the condition of the Gorge waters. A communication was received from the city requesting the support of Esquimalt in a petition to the Provincial Board of Health to make sewers compulsory in portions of Saanich.

"The matter is between the city, Saanich and the Provincial Health Department," Reeve Lockley said. "If conditions are half as bad as the city complains of, there is no doubt that the Department of Health will step in and insist that Saanich remedy the situation."

Councillor Neil Fraser felt that if it affected the Gorge waters, the Esquimalt Council should take a stand on the question. "We don't want a canal cut through from Portage Inlet to Esquimalt Harbor as one remedy suggests—as the sewerage would not escape from the harbor," he stated.

five, lost his life in Backwater Creek, north of Prince Albert. A water-filled dugout claimed the life of Gloria Kettlewell, fourteen, of Brownlee, Sask.

Near New Dayton, Alta., seventeen-year-old Joe Roan was drowned in a reservoir. The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. McIntyre tumbled into an irrigation canal southeast of Lethbridge. Louis Starrie, eighteen, sank in Pigeon Lake, fifty miles southwest of Edmonton.

TEMPERATURES DROP

Clouds which hung over the Prairie areas of Western Canada tonight, spilling rain on sections of Alberta and Saskatchewan, were expected to halt the string of tragedies. Temperatures slid from the day's highs.

Heavy showers fell around Calgary and Edmonton, but Central Lethbridge lands went without moisture.

Comparatively heavy clouds covered Saskatchewan, but rain fell only over Moose Jaw.

Hazy clouds blotted out the Manitoba sun late in the day, bringing the mercury down somewhat from its high of 86. Scattered showers are predicted.

While no big fires were reported, the hot dry weather increased the danger of bush and Prairie fires in Manitoba.

VISITING PIPERS ARE ENTERTAINED

Victoria Society "At Home" to Contingent Here for Annual Highland Gathering

Visiting pipers and drummers attending the Highland gathering at Macdonald Park were the guests on Saturday night at the annual "at home" of the Vancouver Island Pipers' Society, Held in the auditorium of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, the entertainment was intended as a friendly gesture on the part of the host-society to the Highland Games Association.

The band of the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver, which won the band contest, and winning pipers furnished the musical part of the entertainment, and several of the winners in the men's Highland dancing contests gave exhibitions of Scottish dances, the piping for these being supplied by Walter Burgess, fourteen-year-old Saanich piper.

Another feature of the impromptu entertainment, of which Captain C. R. Wilson was chairman, was the reading by Robert D. Young, seventy-six-year-old Ulster Scot, of one of his own poems, "The British Lion Wakes."

The "at home" broke up at midnight with the piping of guests to the Vancouver boat.

Police prowler cars will not be equipped with radio this year, it was decided at a meeting of the City Police Commission yesterday.

A letter was read from the provincial factories inspector at Vancouver, granting a year's extension of time for the installation of interlocking equipment on the doors of the elevators in the police station.

SIR CHARLES GORDON

The late Sir Charles Gordon could have been aptly described as one of the country's financial and industrial princes; a man of great constructive and organizing ability, who has left his mark on the history of the country. His career was the outcome of great ability and an indomitable spirit. From the smallest beginnings he became one of the foremost figures in the business and financial life of the country. What he achieved is a notable part of the industrial structure of the Dominion. For twelve years past he had been president of the Bank of Montreal, and in that capacity, and because of his personality, he added to the strength and prestige of an institution of world-wide note.

The organizing ability of Sir Charles was recognized by the British Government during the Great War. He was made vice-chairman of the Imperial Munitions Board representing this country and director-general of war supplies on behalf of Great Britain on this continent. The services he rendered in this respect were rewarded with a knighthood. In other ways, and with a zeal that knew no flagging, he rendered much of value to the Empire during the Great War, including the loan of his yacht to the Naval Reserve for purposes of training and for coastal service.

The death of Sir Charles will be widely mourned. It is such as he was, with his wide outlook, his courage and high characteristics, who contribute to the prestige of a country. Such assets Canada can ill afford to lose, and his passing came with a suddenness which has shocked the nation-wide friends he had attracted during a career of unceasing activity. The Dominion Textile Company, of which he was president, and the glass manufactories he established stand as monuments to his endeavors, while his contribution to the increasing well being of the Bank of Montreal will long be remembered. He leaves a record of which the Dominion may well be proud.

ANGLO-SOVIET TALKS

The Anglo-Soviet negotiations for a mutual assistance pact have been in progress since March last. The position regarding their present stage is somewhat obscure, but the fact that both Great Britain and France are sending naval and military missions to take part in the negotiations is an indication that progress is being made. Russia has insisted all along that the mutual assistance pact should include guarantees to the Baltic States to give them aid in the event of their becoming victims of aggression. Great Britain, seemingly, could not see her way clear on this point, and then, too, there was the fact that those States made it officially known that they did not want a guarantee. The Baltic States have non-aggression pacts with Russia and Germany, and desire to maintain their solidarity and independence in their own way.

There is room for a tripartite treaty of mutual assistance between Great Britain, France and Russia. This has been understood ever since the commencement of the negotiations, but a difficulty has been the difference between the Anglo-French and the Russian political outlooks. The latter is fraught with a great deal of suspicion about the intentions of other countries, probably justified in the opinion of the Moscow authority because of the criticism so long directed against the character of proletarian rule that obtains in Russia. It is desirable for the Soviet rulers to be able to convince their people that they have got the best of any bargain made. That is probably the reason of the protracted negotiations. There are indications now that an agreement is well within sight. Otherwise Russia would not have invited British and French naval and military missions to visit the country with a view to consultation on the character of mutual aid to be given in the event of aggression.

JAPAN IN CHINA

Japan has occupied 1,562,938 square kilometres in China. This is an area equivalent to two and one-half times the size of Japan. In the task, which has occupied over two years, a million men have been killed and a million and a half wounded. The Tokio correspondent of The Times, London, has been endeavoring to assess the situation as it stands. It is a task of endurance, he says, and the items on the Chinese side are "mainly imponderables." Only the future can show "what spiritual forces the war may have awakened in the Chinese soul." So far China has cheated Japan of ultimate victory by withdrawing her armies into a vast hinterland. She continues to offer resistance in the occupied areas and the correspondent says, "over the greater part of the occupied areas Japan's administrative power extends only over rifle-range."

Japan has been organized on a war footing and organized, too, in a totalitarian way, to bring about what she has decreed as a new order in China. An army pamphlet says the Japanese nation must be ready to spend fifty or even one hundred years in constructing the new order. The pamphlet explains how this is to be done: "The total national strength in men and materials must be mobilized . . . 100,000,000 Japanese and their wealth can be appropriately used in this warfare . . . 50,000,000 Manchurians and their wealth are participating, and the rejuvenated areas of China are joining . . . it is an ordeal of unprecedented severity, but it promises a dazzling future." The Times correspondent, however, points out, in commenting on the foregoing, that the population of Japan is 72,000,000 and that of Manchukuo 33,000,000.

The Japanese seem to have halted their advances in China to concentrate attention on breaking down foreign support to the Chinese. In the meantime they have made clear their peace aims, but in the most general terms. The Times Correspondent, while admitting these are not official, defines the essential demands as follows: (1) Manchukuo to be recognized. (2) North China to enter the yen bloc, open its resources to Japanese development, and accept Japanese advisers in its government. (3) Inner Mongolia to be garrisoned by Japan. (4) China to enter the anti-Comintern agreement, which in effect would be an alliance directed against Russia. The same correspondent says, that Hainan will follow Formosa into Japan's colonial empire, and that "the settlement in Central China and the Yangtze region will be influenced by the result of the struggle for the Concessions and by the British attitude towards the new order." He goes on to say that "the vexed question of withdrawal of Japanese armies may prove less intractable than it seems. The troops cannot be withdrawn immediately from the devastated regions; the result would be an epidemic of banditry; but years and numbers can be fixed, and governments are usually willing enough to sign something which will postpone the evil day. The suggested terms will be the Japanene minimum. It does not seem that less will be accepted, no matter how long the Chinese wait."

POSTAL DEFICIENCIES

The London correspondent of The Toronto Telegram returns to the charge concerning delays in the dispatch of mails from this country to the United Kingdom. He says that on June 23 two letters were mailed simultaneously from a Toronto correspondent, one addressed to his London agent and the other to Mr. Cranfield, the newspaper correspondent himself. Both letters related to a financial transaction, and the one was necessary to the other for its completion. Mr. Cranfield says: "Both envelopes bore the same postal defacing stamp. The letter to the agent was delivered on July 4 and was thus eleven days in transit. That to me did not arrive until July 8, and took fifteen days."

No explanation has been given as to where the fault for the above lapse in delivery lies. Letters mailed simultaneously should catch the same boat across the Atlantic. There are delays occasioned because of the periods between the sailing of mail boats, and the Poost Office always points out that if letters fail to catch one boat they are sent on by the next boat available. On both sides of the Atlantic there should be an inquiry into the frequent delays there are in the carriage of the mails. It is not a pleasant commentary on our own postal facilities that so many who write from Canada to the United Kingdom should, in order to secure quicker dispatch of their mail, inscribe "Via New York" on the envelopes.

A SPEED CHALLENGER

Mr. John Cobb is to make an effort within the next month to break the speed record made by Captain George Eyston in the "Tunderbolt" in September last year. Mr. Cobb's new car is a midget compared with the "Thunderbolt" which is now on exhibition at the British Pavilion at the New York Fair. It will weigh only three tons to the six and a half tons of the "Thunderbolt." Industrial Britain says its basic principle is a twisted single backbone chassis with two Napier Lion engines slung back-to-back and asiant, one engine driving the front axle, the other the rear axle. A 2,500 horsepower car, it is being "tuned" to develop an extra 300 horsepower. In this car Mr. Cobb hopes to reach 380 miles per hour over the Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah.

Worth-While Project

Last Friday evening the Central Church Vacation School ended a two weeks' term at First United Church. Approximately 100 children, of five denominations, attended the school regularly through the period. The programme included instruction in woodwork, sewing, clay modeling, drawing, games, singing and Bible study, all under trained and carefully picked leaders. The instruction was of a practical nature, but at the same time served as an auxiliary to the religious training which was the centre of the school's programme. Theme of the school was "God the Loving Father," and an effort was made, with success, to impart to the children the Christian message in a fashion that would be meaningful to young minds. Taken as a whole, the school rendered a very valuable service to the youngsters who attended, and was one of the best that has been held here. It is to be hoped that, in future years, more parents will take advantage of the Church Vacation School, and provide their children with an opportunity of getting this sound religious instruction.—E B

Antidote for Heat

A boy about five years of age accompanied by another in the vicinity of four Summers wandered along Fort Street showing signs of the Summer heat. Outside a butcher shop the two paused and held a whispered conversation. In the entrance the eldest boy handed a lemon to the youngest, who sidled up to the counter with a "Please, sir, can you cut this lemon in half?" The butcher accomplished the order in a jiffy and handed the two halves to the lads. They wandered along the street each sucking his share and feeling much cooler. . . . Cyclist Tom handed us a note giving the time and place at which a police official deliberately ignored an important stop sign. Unless such an official is on an emergency call and has his siren in action he is required to observe all stop signs the same as the average motorist. . . . Now that a Federal election is in the offing, we wonder whether the old posters "King or Chaos" will be dusted off and smeared over the countryside. . . . According to our tobacconist friend, what you do not know will not hurt you, but it will amuse a lot of people.—G B

Italians Like England

In conversation with a retired English army officer, who has made his home in Italy for a number of years, it was interesting to hear the opinion that the Italian people were personally friendly to England. The English officer was convinced that any attempt to force them into war with Great Britain would result in revolution. He declared that the present alliance between Italy and Germany was an unnatural one, and that there was no love lost between these two nations. He cited the post-Munich visits to Italy of Hitler and Chamberlain to prove his point. The day Hitler arrived, the Englishman's chauffeur told his master that he couldn't work that day as he had been ordered to take his place among the populace and shout a welcome to the Fuehrer. And the English officer said that anyone who didn't raise his voice in acclaim would be tapped on the shoulder and asked why he didn't shout. When Chamberlain came to Italy, he said, there was no need of compulsion. The Italian people flocked to the streets to welcome the man who came armed only with an umbrella, instead of uniformed bodyguards. Mussolini had done wonders in internal administration for the Italian people, said our informant, and from the experience he had gained by living among them, he was convinced that Italy would never oppose England in war.—T T.

CANADIAN VESSELS HELD AT ABERDEEN

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 31 (AP).—Three Canadian seiners were being held here today by customs men following their detention on Saturday as they were putting out to sea after taking shelter here on Friday night.

The three boats, the Fisher Lassie, I. Jessie Island No. 9, and the Western Ranger, all of Vancouver, B.C., had not reported to customs offices as is necessary for foreign ships calling at an American port.

They were intercepted by customs men on a coast guard boat as they were clearing the harbor.

BUILDING IS STILL ACTIVE

Saanich and Oak Bay Show Up Well During Past Month

The month of July just closed made a good showing in the matter of building in the two municipalities of Saanich and Oak Bay. In the former district the permits for July were ahead of the corresponding month of 1938, while in Oak Bay there was a very decided increase for the month just ended when compared with July of last year.

The early part of the year fell off somewhat in Oak Bay, which made the record for the seven months of the year somewhat less than it was in the same period of 1938. In Saanich, however, the seven months just passed showed an improvement over the corresponding seven months of 1938.

VALUE OF PERMITS

In Saanich during July, 1939, there were fifty-one permits taken out representing $69,715. Of these, thirty-three were for dwellings representing $66,520. In the corresponding month in 1938 there were forty-one permits with a value of $61,850. Of these, twenty were for dwellings valued at $64,830. For the seven months past, there were in Saanich 298 permits with a value of $386,165, while for the same period of 1938 there were 314 permits valued at $342,462.

In Oak Bay there were fourteen permits taken out in July, 1939, representing a value of $51,500. In the same month of 1938, there were eleven permits with a value of $32,287. For the seven months of the year, there were sixty-four permits for dwellings of a value of $265,100, as compared with eighty-five permits in 1938, representing a value of $268,310. The total permits issued in Oak Bay for the seven months were 106, valued at $289,677 in 1939, as compared with 121 in 1938, valued at $303,055.

In Esquimalt the value of permits issued in July totaled $2,050, while in 1938 it totaled $5,125.

SUNSHINE HOURS DOWN FOR JULY

Month Saw More Rainy and Cloudy Days Than Usual—Cool Weather Is Forecast

Despite the hot weather that marked the last few days of July, the month, taken as a whole, was a cool one, and there were considerably more cloudy days than sunny ones. The monthly weather report, issued yesterday by the Dominion Government Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill, showed that hours of sunshine totaled 306, which was thirty hours or nearly 10 per cent less than average.

At the same time, rainfall during July was nearly three times as great as the normal precipitation, 1.17 inches of rain falling during the month. The average rainfall is .43 inches, making precipitation for July .74 inches above normal.

The mean temperature for the month was 60 degrees, which was average for July. Maximum temperature came last Wednesday, when the mercury soared to 81 degrees. Minimum for the month was 47 degrees, on July 7, and minimum on the grass was 35 degrees July 12.

Sunday was one of the windiest days of the month, with a strong west breeze blowing in at thirty miles for a large part of the afternoon. Picnickers had bright sunshine, but found the wind somewhat annoying.

The forecast indicates that there may be a change soon, with cool weather anticipated today, and more cloudiness tomorrow.

MAY MAKE HALIFAX NEW AIR TERMINAL

MONTREAL, July 31 (CP).—For the present, "at least," Moncton, N.B., will remain as Eastern terminus of Trans-Canada Air Lines, Hon. C. D. Howe, Dominion transport minister, said today.

"Moncton is the terminus, but we have equipped Halifax with all necessary facilities in view of a possible switch," he said. "We are studying the Halifax situation, and if the weather and other matters there prove as favorable as at Moncton, we naturally will run our planes right through to Halifax to have a coast-to-coast service."

TRIP TO EAST IS DESCRIBED

W. L. Woodhouse Addresses Gyro Club on His Tour at Luncheon Meeting

At the Gyro Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday, W. L. Woodhouse, who recently attended a convention of the United Commercial Travelers in Columbus, Ohio, told of some of the outstanding features of his trip, which took in the fair in New York and many other interesting points. Before the address of Mr. Woodhouse, four members of the club were called upon to give vocational addresses. They were James D. Ferguson, Gordon Law, Fred Manning and M. Trueman.

Mr. Woodhouse, in his address, spoke of the wonderful epoch-makers of the United States whose faces had been carved in the mountains of South Dakota. These were at Mount Rushmore and depicted Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt. The scale to which these faces were carved, if they were made proportionately in the full figure of the Presidents, would be about 465 feet in height.

EASTERN VISITS

In Chicago and the surrounding sections, great improvements were noted by him in the cleaning up of formerly neglected parts and the substitution of parks for these areas.

In New York he was deeply interested in seeing the baseball games and told of the sad spectacle presented by Lou Gehrig, the famous player, who is now incapacitated by a paralytic affection which has retired him from the game.

The World's Fair was described by Mr. Woodhouse briefly. In this connection he was struck by the wonderful display put on by Russia. One failed to understand how the people that showed remarkable ability in the line of manufacture should hold the views entertained by the Soviet country in political and social lines.

Coming from New York up the Hudson River with its beautiful scenery he had visited old Ticonderoga, which had been the scene of so much fighting in the early history of the continent. He was deeply impressed with the rural surroundings of the Province of Quebec, with its French population.

SALT SPRING ISLAND, July 31.—An entertainment held under the auspices of the Salt Spring Island Development Association took place last Thursday evening in the Mahon Hall for the purpose of raising funds to complete the Ganges tennis courts.

A series of colored motion pictures was shown by George Willis, Victoria.

In spite of the heat there was quite a good attendance. A dance was held after the show of pictures. The Islanders Orchestra supplied the music.

Seventeen Craft On Sidney Visit

Seventeen Royal Victoria Yacht Club boats and their crews left Cadboro Bay on Saturday afternoon on the vice-commodore's annual cruise, and returned to their moorings on Sunday night after an enjoyable outing.

Vice-Commodore Eric Pepler and Commodore E. P. Ashe led the flotilla.

Good sailing weather was encountered on arrival at the Spit, but a strong southwest wind and a rough sea took most of the pleasure out of the return voyage.

Music for community singing around a campfire was furnished by F. C. Holden's piano accordion. On Sunday morning a race for snipes was held from Sidney Spit to Saanichton Spit.

NASCOPIE BERTHS AT NORTHERN PORT

CHURCHILL, Man., July 31 (CP).—The Nascopie, sturdy little veteran of Arctic waters, entered Hudson Bay today as vanguard of a fleet of vessels headed for this northernmost port of Canada.

The Hudson's Bay Company steamship on her annual patrol in the Eastern Arctic is expected to reach Cape Smith tomorrow. She will continue to Port Harrison in Quebec Province, where part of her mixed cargo will be unloaded. Then the Nascopie will head for Churchill, where she is due on August 6 in time for the Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir will visit Churchill during a Western Canada tour.

The freighter Troutpool is bound for Churchill to load grain for European ports. She will be followed by the Wentworth and the Ashworth. The motorship Therese, Roman Catholic mission supply boat which left Montreal last week, is due toward the end of August.

Blaze Causes Heavy Damage to West Ira

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31 (AP).—Damage caused by a fire that swept the forward hold of the freighter West Ira and injured thirty men was estimated by McCormick Line officials today to be between $50,000 and $100,000.

The 8,800-ton ship caught fire shortly before 3 a.m. yesterday at Pier 38. Some 150 fire fighters brought the blaze under control after a four-hour battle.

"North opened a small trump. After studying the hand I saw that there were two alternative lines of play. One was to look for five club tricks, three diamonds and two hearts, which would require the spade finesse to be successful for the rest of the tricks, and the other plan was to go out for five clubs, two hearts, and a heart ruff, with only one spade. This, of course, would involve establishing the diamond suit for at least four tricks. I had no slide rule at hand, with which to figure mathematically the percentages offered by this dilemma, and being unable to operate one anyway, proceeded to puzzle over the possibilities for some time. I finally decided that the second plan was the safer and more professional in that the spade finesse would be avoided.

"I won the opening lead with dummy's club jack, led a low diamond to my queen, cashed one more round of trumps, then played to the king and back to the ace of hearts, preparatory to ruffing a third heart in dummy, after which I was going to ruff a small diamond in my own hand, draw the remaining trumps, enter dummy with the spade queen, and attempt to run the diamond suit. Unfortunately, a loud wail arose from my partner when the second heart lead was ruffed by South, and there then ensued all sorts of recriminations because I had not simply drawn trumps and taken the winning spade finesse. I still am of the opinion that my plan was correct. What do you think, or rather, what are the percentages?—F.R.R., St. Louis."

The declarer played this hand absolutely correctly and his failure was due to the toughest sort of luck. It would have been the height of folly to have taken the spade finesse when the alternative plan of ruffing a heart and playing for four diamond tricks was available. First, it was almost inconceivable that declarer could run into trouble in the heart suit (although he actually did), and second, there was an excellent chance that the diamond suit would produce four tricks with the help of one ruff in the closed hand. As a matter of fact, the only lay of cards that would fail to produce four diamond tricks would be for either opponent to hold five or more diamonds headed by the jack.

It is all very well to criticize the play of a hand after it develops that a certain finesse would have been taken successfully, but it should be borne in mind that finesses are only 50-50 propositions. If the spade king had been held by South instead of North, I am sure that the matter of "recriminations" never would have come up.

FINANCE - COMMERCE - MARKETS

Small Losses Predominate in New York Mart

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP).—There were a few rallying favorites in today's stock market, but the list as a whole sloughed off fractions to around a point.

Prices wavered slightly at the start. Mild support came in now and then only to fade before light offerings.

Dealings were slack throughout, with transfers for the five hours totaling 519,990 shares, smallest for a similar period since July 11. The turnover compared with 810,650 last Friday. The Associated Press average was down .2 of a point at 49.8. For the month ended today this composite retained a net gain of 4.3 points.

Some of the day's indifference, brokers suggested, may have been due to the possibility of the United States congressional lending battle halting a nearby adjournment of the legislative body. From Wall Street's standpoint, prolongation of Congress usually is bearish inasmuch as bills considered unfriendly to the financial sector may crop up.

Spread of labor troubles in the automotive field tended to cloud spirits somewhat, as it was realized the time for introducing the 1940 models was near at hand and an extensive interruption could be costly to the motor makers.

Western Union put on a rising show of its own, getting up more than a point at the best to a new 1939 peak.

On the downside were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, Southern Pacific, Anaconda, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Westinghouse, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, United States Gypsum and Douglas Aircraft.

Buying in selected utility and industrial bonds gave support to the market today.

Final prices showed mixed gains and losses, mostly fractional. Traders took things easy waiting for business and other developments to give new incentives for action. Institutional demand was seen in the firm prices bid for better utility and industrial loans, which have been buoyed for some time by the record accumulation of idle bank funds.

In the foreign list, Dominican Republic first 5 1-2's jumped 5 to 75 on a few deals. United States Treasury loans were uneven and narrow.

HEAVY BUYING IN TORONTO GOLDS

TORONTO, July 31 (CP).—Cheaper gold listings on Toronto market worked themselves up to quite a lather today on the heaviest buying in months, while the secondary and senior groups followed New York downward to register an index crop of half a point. Industrials and western oils also sagged slightly, while the base metal shares closed with a minor margin on the upside. Aggregate turnover was 582,000 shares.

Franceour was the star performer today as trade in the issue swelled to 198,000 shares on the news a new ore discovery had been made on the property. The price opened at 50, advanced to 66 and closed at 59 for a gain of 14. Bankfield and Arntfield traded 85,000 to 90,000 shares and Bankfield closed 5 up at 33. Net gain for Towagmac was 1 1-2 cents.

Nickel and Smelters posted losses of minor fractions and Noranda firmed the minimum fraction. Waite-Amulet, Ventures, Pend Oreille and Sherritt were all narrowly higher. Eldorado dropped 4. Other silvers were steady and quiet.

Interlisted leaders held close to Saturday's close, while steels and utilities showed a narrow margin of losses over gains. Papers and senior oils were steady to strong.

Action in the western oils improved in the last hour. Home Oil advanced 5 to 2.25 and Brown Corporation firmed 2 cents to close at 23 1-2. Davies and Okalta closed down.

Advance of Golds Features Session in Vancouver Exchange

VANCOUVER, July 31 (CP).—A general advance in gold share prices featured an otherwise dull session of Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Oils were up slightly in light trading and base metals were quiet.

Lucky Jim had a turnover of 15,000 shares but remained steady at 1 cent. Bralorne was ignored by most traders but one 40-share sale hit a season peak of 12.00. Cariboo was 8 cents up at 2.24, and Hedley Mascot moved ahead to 76. Sheep Creek was up at 1.21. Privateer registered the only setback of the group, dropping .2 to 1.19.

Home led the oils, moving up 1 to 2.25.

Royal Canadian firmed 1-2 to 20, and Monarch was up fractionally at 8. Pacalta dropped 1-2 to 4 1-4.

DIVIDEND DECLARED

Little Long Lac Gold Mines, Ltd., 10 cents, payable August 26, to holders of record August 16.

UNDECIDED IN MONTREAL MART

MONTREAL, July 31 (CP).—Stock market displayed indecision today as the list began on a firm footing, weakened after midday and finally showed a scattering of gains and losses at the close.

Metals exemplified the erratic trend with Nickel off 5-8 point and Smelters 1, while Hollinger and Hudson Bay Mining gained fractions. Canadian Car preferred lost 1-4, but C.P.R. improved 1-8 and Dosco was unchanged.

Up 1-8 were Power Corporation and Shawinigan. Papers lost ground with St. Lawrence Paper preferred off 1; St. Lawrence Corporation off 1-8, and Dryden off 1-4.

Dominion Bridge, Imperial Oil, Massey Harris, National Breweries and Lake of the Woods all remained steady. Laura Secord and Ogilvie Flour added 1-4 each while Canadian Celanese slipped 1-4 and Imperial Tobacco 1-8.

GOOD GAINS IN WHEAT MARKET

WINNIPEG, July 31 (CP).—Further deterioration to Western Canada's Spring wheat crop due to continued high temperatures and lack of moisture, together with a renewed export interest in Canadian wheat, brought good gains to wheat futures prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

Late easiness at Chicago weakened values near the close, however, and at the finish the range was 1-2 cent lower to 1-2 cent higher. July was the only loser in going off the board at 52 1-8 cents, while October closed at 53 1-4, November 54 7-8 and December 55 to 55 1-8 cents.

Almost 750,000 bushels of high-grade Northern wheat were taken by export houses, chiefly from the Eastern seaboard.

Liverpool jumped 1 1-4 to 1 3-8d, while Chicago ended 1-4 up to 1-2 cent down and Buenos Aires held unchanged.

Top Northern grades received good support from export interests and shippers in the cash wheat market. Coarse grain trading was confined to routine spreading.

Social and Economic Research

Here is the equipment whereby formulas for social and business progress may be developed

WITHOUT knowledge or information at his disposal, a person is greatly handicapped in the promotion or extension of any venture he may undertake. On the other hand, the possibilities of success are definitely increased, if one is well posted on all the facts—past and present—that are associated with the venture and the conditions related to it.

Depending upon persons and circumstances, this venture may be a plan for social betterment or for business enterprise. Perhaps it is the building of a school—the raising of a particular kind of farm product or livestock — the catching and curing of fish — the administration of a health department—the manufacture or export of certain commodities; or it may be connected with mining, lumbering, smelting, building, brickmaking or any one of hundreds of different ventures that commonly interest Canadian citizens.

But whatever it may be—full information about it is available from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, and this information is accessible to all.

Figures Give You Facts— Show You Future Possibilities

Take the tourist trade for instance. Records compiled by the Bureau show the growth of the trade year by year and approximately how much the tourists spent while in Canada. It is known how many came by car—by train or over ocean routes; also how many visited each province and in what month they arrived.

Then to a person interested in apples, the Bureau can furnish data on what quantity has been consumed in Canada year by year—also what quantities are exported and where to—and their value. Similar data are available for every other product of farm, forest, mine and fishery.

On matters pertaining to the health of Canadian citizens there is a tremendous amount of useful, authentic information covering every province and presenting a valuable array of facts in an orderly manner, correctly co-ordinated and easily understood.

Similarly on hundreds of other subjects related to the social and business life of Canada, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics furnishes abundant information.

As a whole, these statistics are a record of Canada's accomplishments and a barometer of social and business trends. They indicate possibilities of progress for the years to come.

Fifteen Branches Co-operate in This Service

All the facilities of the Bureau of Statistics are maintained for the use and benefit of Canadian citizens. To cover and present all phases of its work, the Bureau issues approximately 500 different publications — weekly, monthly, quarterly and annual. For business men the Canada Year Book is one of the most useful of these publications. It is a well-bound volume of some 1141 pages crammed with tabulated and other information which represents exceptional value at $1.50; procurable from the King's Printer, Ottawa.

A list of all Bureau publications will be well worth checking over to note their contents and to secure those which best serve your interests. The Bureau cordially invites inquiries and promptly attends to all correspondence. Address your letters to Dr. R. H. Coats, Dominion Statistician, Ottawa.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Buster Finds an Excuse

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

"Come down," roared Buster, "Come down, you prickly nuisance."

Buster Bear looked up to the top of the tall tree where Prickly Porky was contentedly chewing a strip of bark. "Come down," roared Buster. "Come down, you prickly nuisance, that I may shake you out of your skin"

Buster's voice was terrible to hear. All those who had gathered around to see what was going on backed off a few steps farther. Peter Rabbit was there, of course. So was Jumper the Hare. Happy Jack Squirrel and Striped Chipmunk were on hand. Unc' Billy Possum and Bobby Coon were right where they could see best. Billy Mink and Little Joe Otter and Reddy Fox and Old Man Coyote. Whitefoot the Wood Mouse, Sammy Jay, Blacky the Crow, and a host of other feathered folk formed a big circle. It was a curious circle, because, you know, all the smaller folk were where they were sure the larger folk could not catch them.

Prickly Porky kept right on eating, just as if he hadn't heard a word. Buster Bear might have been miles away for all the notice Prickly Porky took of him. This made Buster angrier than ever. His two little eyes fairly glowed with rage.

"If you don't come down I'll come up after you," he roared. Then once more he wished he had kept his tongue still. He hadn't really intended to let that slip out.

Prickly Porky dropped a piece of bark right down in Buster's face.

"Come along," said he. "Come right up, Buster Bear. I'll wait for you right up here at the top. There's a splendid view up here. I think you will enjo, it."

Peter Rabbit laughed right out before he thought, then wished he hadn't. Somebody else laughed, too. Buster half turned as if to try to catch them. But he thought better of it and once more turned his attention to Prickl Porky. Now Buster had no intention of climbing that tree. He began to look eagerly for an excuse not to. He walked in a circle around the foot of the tree and his little eyes searched sharply every inch of the ground. As he walked he took great pains to limp. Presently he saw what he hoped to see. He saw several of Prickly Porky's little spears, his quills, you know. They had fallen out of his coat and lay among the leaves at the foot of the tree.

"Oh, I would come fast enough but for one thing," he said glaring up at Prickly Porky. "I've got one of your little spears in one of my paws now, and I don't intend to get any more. My feet are pretty big and if I should come close enough to that tree to start to climb it, I'm afraid that I would almost certainly get another of those miserable little spears in one of them. It's a mighty lucky thing for you that I can't get to that tree. I would teach you a lesson which you would never forget. I would shake you until you hadn't a spear left. Then perhaps you would be more careful in the future."

Prickly Porky looked down and there was a queer light in his usually dull little eyes.

"If that's all you want of me, Buster Bear, I'll come down," said he.

CONSTIPATION MAKES PEOPLE HATE YOU

● Nobody loves a grouch. But if your bowels aren't "regular" you're bound to feel mean. Common constipation is often caused by a diet that lacks "bulk". Many common foods don't leave enough residue for the bowels to keep them working rhythmically. Crisp, crunchy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN helps to form a soft bulky mass that encourages bowel movements. And ALL-BRAN is a rich source of Nature's intestinal tonic, Vitamin B1. Adopt this sensible routine: Eat ALL-BRAN every day; drink plenty of water. With "regular" habits you'll be a new person.

Ganges Bride To Make Home At Chemainus

St. Mark's Church, Salt Spring Island, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, when Rev. C. H. Popham, vicar of the parish, united in marriage Frances Annie Edith, second daughter of Mrs. J. H. Smith, of Ganges, and the late Mr. Smith, and Mr. Albert Frederick Dyer, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dyer, of Vancouver. Mrs. G. B. Young was at the organ.

The church was prettily decorated by friends of the bride, a variety of Summer flowers being used. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Frank Smith, wore a long white satin gown, cut on simple princess lines. Her veil of embroidered net was arranged beneath a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses, sweet peas, carnations and asparagus fern.

Miss Melita Smith, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of blue taffeta, with doll hat to match, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and asparagus fern.

The bridesmaids, Miss Juanita Smith and Miss Muriel Chapman, were in frocks of pale mauve taffeta, and wore doll hats and carried bouquets of sweet peas and asparagus fern. The best man was Mr. P. Quilch, and the ushers were Messrs. Howard Henn and Jack Campbell.

RECEIVE GUESTS

Following the ceremony, a reception, attended by about seventy-five guests, was held at the home of the bride's mother, where the bride and groom, standing under an arch of gladioli, sweet peas and fern, received the good wishes of their friends. A two-tier wedding cake, surmounted by a silver vase of candytuft, centred the refreshment table. The toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Mr. Frank Smith.

After a honeymoon trip on the Mainland, for which the bride left in a black ensemble, white turban hat and white accessories, Mr and Mrs. Dyer will make their home at Chemainus.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. Frank Smith, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Quilch and Mrs. Hart, Chemainus; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dyer and Mrs. Fleming, Vancouver; Mrs. J. Willowy Grace in Smart Frock

By ANNE ADAMS

Pattern 4171

THE spirit of Summer in all its light-hearted enchantment, is the very essence of this Anne Adams creation, pattern 4171. Your figure is supple, graceful, enhanced by the unbroken fluid beauty of its princess lines. You might give them a delightfully unexpected touch with lovely curved leaf appliques in gay garden colors. But this is entirely optional, for the lines of the dress are unusually flattering with or without the appliques. The scalloped edge of the low V-neck is tremendously flattering and very easy to do. The save-your-coiffure buttoning down the front is handy for quick, spread-flat ironing too. The sewing instructor will guide you.

Pattern 4171 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes 4⅛ yards 35-inch fabric and ⅛ yard contrast.

Send twenty cents in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Came Here Fifty Years Ago Today

Mrs. John Webber, of 2017 Cameron Street, today celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of her arrival in Victoria from England.

A native of Chatham, Kent, Mrs. Webber's maiden name was Clara A. Gimber. She left Liverpool on July 17, 1889, and arrived in Victoria on August 1. On February 1, 1890, she married James S. Keefe, theirs being the first Salvation Army wedding in Victoria. Eight years later Mr. Keefe died, leaving her with three small children. Later she married Capt. John Webber, who died four and a half years ago.

Approaching her seventy-fourth birthday, Mrs. Webber, who is an old and respected member of the Salvation Army here, is in fairly good health. Three daughters, six grandchildren and one sister are living in Victoria.

Nephew: Aunt Fuss, you're always borrowing trouble.

FIND NEW ROUTE FOR ALASKA ROAD

country, and once the Alaska road is started, it could be completed probably within two years, if construction began at different points," he said.

Flying southeast from Dawson, Magnuson mapped the "natural trench" route to White Horse, and Atlin, B.C. From there it would touch Dease Lake and the Klappan River, beside which he said ran one of the "most beautiful natural valleys I have ever seen." The route would continue south to the headwaters of the Skeena River and go on to Takla Lake and Prince George.

TAPS HUGE COUNTRY

The route, cutting through British Columbia's central interior, would take in much more country than either of the other two routes. It would also include the great Peace River country which is being connected with Alberta through the Monkman Pass Highway, he said.

"On our flight we came upon vast fertile valleys and mountains—scenery that rivals anything in Europe or Asia. The people in that area are all hopeful for the proposed road because their main problem is transportation."

Magnuson said that the United States commissioners had asked settlers for data at various towns and even at little gas caches where they stopped to refuel. This information they hope to compile with their own into a report which they hope to have ready by the time the Canadian section of the commission makes its report.

HOPES TO MEET AT OTTAWA

"Then, we hope your Prime Minister, Mr. Mackenzie King, will give permission for your commission to meet us again at Ottawa in the Fall, so that some financial solution for the project can be worked out."

If a solution is reached in the Fall, Magnuson said, construction could be started by next July as far as the United States is concerned. That country is ready to build its part of the road "any time."

Magnuson said that he is "very thankful" to have been able to make the trip into the North country, "where we ate moose, caribou and other big game every day."

Dr. Gruening said that he concurred with Mr. Magnuson and added he hopes for a "speedy conclusion of the road to the benefit and satisfaction of both nations."

PUBLIC INQUIRY IS ORDERED HELD

to the officers charged, and following the chief constable's inquiry, these charges be proceeded with in the manner provided for in the rules and regulations authorized by the board in such cases."

After the meeting, Mayor Telford announced charges to be laid against two of the officers would be of a criminal nature, and for that reason would not be dealt with according to police "blue book" regulations which —in non-criminal charges—call for a sifting of the complaint by the chief constable after the accused man has signed the charge and entered his plea.

OF NON-CRIMINAL NATURE

The mayor said, however, that his charges against Chief Constable Foster will be of a non-criminal nature.

(A few weeks ago, at a police commission meeting, Mayor Telford accused Brigadier Foster of "maladministration" and suggested Foster should resign.)

The charges against members of the police force will be drawn up by Corporation Counsel D. E. McTaggart, and the cases prepared by City Prosecutor Oscar Orr, the mayor said. He said the charges will be drafted as quickly as possible, but will not be available today, and "perhaps not tomorrow."

The police commission met in camera this morning to hear Mayor Telford's summary of his complaints. Then the meeting was thrown open to press and public for announcement of the commission's decision to hold a public inquiry.

The commissioners will preside at the inquiry, but whether Mayor Telford will sit with County Court Judge A. M. Harper and Police Magistrate G. R. McQueen at the investigation has not been decided.

MATTER FOR CONSCIENCE

"That's matter for the mayor's conscience," Judge Harper said in reply to a question by General J. A. Clark, counsel for Brigadier Foster.

"The question arises whether you can apply an impartial mind to evidence before the commission if you are the accuser," Magistrate McQueen told the mayor.

"I'm not going to make any snap judgment," the mayor replied. "It's my business."

When General Clark told commissioners that he would expect Mayor Telford to give evidence at the inquiry and submit to cross-examination, Dr. Telford said: "I'm going to do whatever I believe right in the interests of the city."

POSTPONES DEPARTURE

Brigadier Foster postponed his departure on a trip to Ottawa and the Old Country. He was scheduled to leave this week.

Both he and Mayor Telford said they are "satisfied" with the order for a public investigation.

"I'm glad to have a public investigation of these charges," Brigadier Foster said. "Serious charges against my character have been made—I should have the right to public vindication."

TWO SCORE ARE SENT TO HOSPITAL

A large, milling crowd of United Automobile Workers (Congress of Industrial Organizations) and sympathizers remained outside the huge seven-story brick plant which covers an area equal to several city blocks on Cleveland's East Side.

Ness declared his proclamation curbing picketing would go into effect at 3 a.m. tomorrow, and would limit pickets to five at each gate. Several union leaders contended he had no legal right to limit the demonstrators.

COMPANY FILES SUIT

The company filed in common pleas court a suit asking limitation of picketing, and a ban on violence. Hearing was set for tomorrow.

A crowd of 5,000 to 6,000 members of the C.I.O. United Automobile Workers and sympathizers, wearing papier mache helmets, overturned non-strikers' automobiles and fought with about 100 policemen as the factory reopened this morning after a week-end shutdown.

A new clash occurred late today in full view of Ness and Mayor Harold H. Burton, inspecting the turbulent strike scene. Mounted police charged the picket line to clear the way for a company car. A brief melee followed, the crowd smashing windows of the automobile with a shower of rocks. Three men were arrested.

TO "CLOSE THE PLANT"

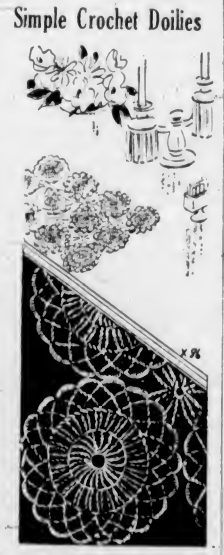

Mass picketing at Fisher Body was designed, union leaders said, to "close the plant" which has operated at a curtailed rate for the three weeks of the strike, called by tool and die makers to enforce demands for a supplemental contract.

Two other Cleveland factories, Bender Body and White Motor, closed for the day when many of their workers joined the Fisher Body crowd.

Constipated? Then Ask Yourself This Question!

If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, low, all played out . . . it's time you asked yourself a question:

What have you had to eat lately? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It's no surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk" in your diet. And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food but a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body . . . that leaves a soft, "bulky" mass and helps a bowel movement.

Kellogg's All-Bran is a tasteful ready-to-eat cereal. It supplies the "bulk" you need plus Vitamin B1 which helps tone the intestines.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and gain a new lease on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in London, Can. Sold by every grocer.

WEEP FOR LOVE
by
RUBY M. AYRES

CHAPTER XX

Roy rounded the last bend of the drive in fine style and stopped at the front door.

His sister Barbara came running out to meet them.

"I quite expected he'd turn you out into the ditch of something," she informed Elizabeth. "He's so frightfully reckless."

"Reckless yourself!" her brother retorted disgustedly. "Has Lawless come?"

"Not yet. And I'm not at all sure that he will come."

Roy stared at her.

"What on earth do you mean?"

Barbara shrugged her shoulders.

"Nothing, except—well, at the dance the other night I thought he didn't seem keen about it. You know how people behave when they're trying to hedge politely."

Roy laughed.

"Rot! He'll come," he said confidently. "You're always imagining things. Hallo, mater."

Mrs. Selby bent to kiss Elizabeth.

"I am delighted to see you," she said, and she drew the girl's hand through her arm. "Did you have a good run down? Did Roy drive carefully? But I'm sure he did."

"I'll take you up to your room," Barbara volunteered. "I hope you'll be able to find your way about this old barn. Has Roy told you about Bingo?" she asked laughingly.

"Yes."

"I believe it's just a fable," Barbara declared. "At any rate, we've never seen him. This way—down these two steps. I hope you'll like your room; it looks over the garden. By the way, may I call you Elizabeth?"

"Please."

"And you may call be Barbara. I hate formality. Here we are."

She crossed the room with its low-raftered ceiling and pushed the window wide.

"It's a topping view," she said, with careless pride. "It's a bit misty now—heat, I suppose—but when it's clear you can see the hills—and a bit of the sea."

She was so bright and friendly that Elizabeth's heart warmed towards her as, for a moment, they stood together looking out over the old walled garden, with its beds of flaming flowers and mossy lawns.

Suddenly Barbara gave a little squeal.

"There's Kim—oh, I am glad he's come, after all!" She leaned out of the window and called to him shrilly.

Lawless, who had just stopped his car at the door, looked up and smiled; but Elizabeth drew back a little with a sudden unaccountable feeling of shyness.

"I'm so glad he's come," Barbara said again joyfully. "He's such a lamb. I was dead nuts on him when I was in the nursery, and I've never got over it." She glanced at Elizabeth. "Of course that was ages before he knew your sister," she apologized. "I can't understand why she chucked him."

"I don't know anything about it," Elizabeth said.

"Neither do I. Kim never talks about her, of course, but she always seemed so frightfully happy when she was with him—not that I saw them together very much."

Poor Penelope! Elizabeth thought again, but she made no comment as they went downstairs together.

"Tea outside under the old apple tree," Roy informed them gaily. He give his sister a little dig. "Who said Lawless wasn't coming?" he scoffed, raising his voice to call to his friend.

Lawless shook hands with Elizabeth. "What do you think of High Chimneys?" he asked.

"I think it's beautiful."

"I think old places are a bit depressing myself," Barbara said cheerfully, "but I expect you'll love it."

"Why should she love it?" Roy asked.

Barbara laughed.

"Well, she looks a bit romantic," she answered. "There's a sort of fairy princess air about her." She waved a hand in vague explanation. "I'm sure she adores the Knights of the Round Table and all that, don't you, Elizabeth?"

SERVICE IS HELD AT PATRICIA BAY

North Saanich Legion Observes Decoration Day—Graves Are Decorated

SIDNEY, July 31.—The North Saanich Branch of the Canadian Legion held its annual Decoration Day service on Sunday afternoon.

The line of march was formed at the Patricia Bay Service Station, from where members proceeded to Holy Trinity Churchyard. They were headed by the pipe band of the 2nd Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment under the command of Lieut.-Col. W. Bapty and by their standard-bearers, Comrades W. C. Clarke and G. Graham.

Assembled at the churchyard was the Women's Auxiliary to the North Saanich Branch and a good number of others who had come to join in the service.

SILENT TRIBUTE

After the sounding of the Last Post by a member of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, the silence of remembrance was observed. The president of the branch, H. L. Ricketts, spoke the words of remembrance.

Rev. J. S. Muldrew, of the United Church, read the lesson.

Rev. R. J. Pierce, of St. Stephen's Church, then said the prayer, which was followed by an address by Rev. Col. S. J. Wickens, of Royal Oak.

The speaker said that they were assembled to remember those who had died in the Great War and to remember those who were left suffering through war. Those present knew the horror and ruthlessness of war, and were anxious to find a remedy to stop war. Disarmament had been tried but this only seemed to encourage aggression. The question has been asked: "What can the church do for a remedy?"

LOVE MUST REPLACE HATRED

Hatred must be replaced by love, and trust and tolerance given by the Christian religion, which was the only solution, he said.

Following the address the graves of soldiers were decorated with flowers assembled by the Women's Auxiliary to the North Saanich Branch.

The hymn, "O God, Our Help," was sung, followed by the Benediction, given by Rev. R. J. Pierce.

PACIFIC AIR ROUTE READY

Pan-American Airways Seeks to Connect West Coast and New Zealand

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP).—Pan-American Airways, with a passenger and mail service across the Atlantic established, announced today that it is ready to begin service between the United States West Coast and New Zealand.

Application for authority to begin fortnightly flights with one of its 41½-ton, four-motored flying boats over an 8,000-mile route linking San Francisco and Los Angeles with Auckland, N.Z., will be filed with a Government agency in Washington today.

The route outlined by the company in papers to be deposited with the Civil Aeronautics Authority would extend from San Francisco, the present base of the trans-Pacific service to the Philippines and China, to Los Angeles and then to Honolulu.

From Hawaii it would turn south and west for the 1,913-mile jump to Canton Island. It would involve a 1,989-mile flight to Noumea, New Caledonia, and one of 1,124 miles to Auckland. The actual mileage is 7,952.

SAVING OF ELEVEN DAYS

Imperial Airways already has announced plans for a New Zealand-Australia air service, completing the line to Sydney.

Flying time, San Francisco to Auckland, would be forty-nine hours. The elapsed time of four days would include a full day's layover in Honolulu and overnight stops at Canton Island and Noumea. The present steamship time is fifteen days.

The Airways Company said more than six years had been spent in preparation for the South Pacific service. The route would be west of the course originally blazed by survey flying boats in 1937 and 1938.

OKLAHOMA PADRE PLANS NEW SHIP

Dr. Homer F. Kellems, Returning to Farm After Unsuccessful Arctic Voyage

SEATTLE, July 31 (AP). — Rev. Dr. Homer F. Kellems, Oklahoma rancher - evangelist - traveler, returned from Seward, Alaska, on the steamship Baranof today with three of his crew of five, after the wreck of their thirty-eight-foot fishing boat, the Pandora, near Cape St. Elias, on a projected trip around the continent.

"I'm going back to my ranch in Oklahoma," he said, "to start building another boat. This time I'm going to have about a fifty-footer. A boat much bigger than that would not be able to navigate in the Arctic."

With Kellems were his twenty-one - year - old daughter, Vivienne; Cecil J. Brooks and A. Y. Owen, Ira Jones and Leo Clark stayed in Alaska.

Brooks and Owen said it was doubtful whether they would accompany Kellems if he tries the cruise again next year.

FISHERIES ON COAST IN LEAD

Production in British Columbia for All Varieties Totals $18,725,591

OTTAWA, July 31 (CP).—Value of the British Columbia fishery production in 1938 was $18,725,591, compared with $16,155,439 in 1937, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Quantity of fish of all kinds taken by British Columbia fishermen in 1938 was 4,562,864 cwt., with a value at the point of landing of $8,668,566, compared with the 1937 catch of 4,954,195 cwt. at $7,837,930.

British Columbia is the leading province of Canada with respect to fisheries production, and contributing chiefly to its position of first importance is the immense salmon fishery. Value of the salmon product as marketed was $14,544,126, an increase over 1937 of $2,636,221 or 18 per cent.

MODEL AIRPLANES SEEK BIG TROPHY

International Competition to Be Held at Teterboro, New Jersey, Next Sunday

NEW YORK, July 31.—Miniature, rubber band-powered motors will whirr merrily on Sunday, August 6, when approximately seventy-five competitors from foreign countries and the United States will vie for the Lord Wakefield Trophy at the Aviation Golf Club, adjoining Bendix Field at Teterboro, N.J.

According to Irwin S. Polk, manager of the International Model Airplane Competition, teams from Italy, Canada, France, England and the United States have already announced their intention to be on hand. Tentative acceptances have been received from Germany, Hungary, Iceland, Bulgaria, Belgium and New Zealand.

Each team will have six members. Those countries unable to send personal representatives will have their ships flown by American proxies. At the present time it is definitely known that Holland, South Africa, Australia and Finland will be proxied by American boys.

The Lord Wakefield Trophy, a beautiful thirty-inch cup of sterling silver, is to model enthusiasts what the Lipton Cup is to yachtsmen and the Davis Cup to tennis players. This is the twelfth year it has been open for competition. Great Britain has won it five times, America five times and France once. Last year it was won by Robert Cahill, Indianapolis college student, whose victory in France gave America the honor of defending it in this country. Bernarr Macfadden, publisher and aviation enthusiast, is sponsor of the meet this year.

Halibut Vessels Make Port Ahead Of New Deadline

VANCOUVER, July 31 (CP).—Seven of the forty halibut vessels operating out of Vancouver brought final catches for the 1939 season to port today well in advance of the August 4 deadline set by the International Halibut Commission.

The fish are from Area Two, in British Columbia waters, which will be closed to fishing at midnight next Saturday.

A total of 84,300 pounds of halibut was landed here today and brought about average prices, from 6 to 7 cents. Within the next two or three days more than thirty more boats will bring in their final catches.

Fishing will proceed to Area Three, in Alaskan waters, but few Vancouver vessels will take part. Fishing in Area Two started on April 1 and the limit of 22,700,000 pounds will have been landed by August 4. The limit in Area Three is 25,300,000 pounds and the season there will close in October.

RADIALS AND CARSTEEL PLAY TO TWO-ALL DRAW

Ammonette Beaten In Opening Round Of B.C. Tournament

Seeded Player Eliminated in Straight Sets at the Willows by Tom Brown—Hank Bennett Puts Out John Ritchie in Three Sessions—Many Matches Are Scheduled for Today

Twenty-four matches, all singles, were run off yesterday at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club courts, Fort Street, as play got under way in the annual British Columbia championships. The tournament will continue all week, with the finals carded Saturday afternoon.

Two upsets crept into the opening day's play, with Hank Bennett, leading Victoria junior, and Tom Brown, San Francisco, assuming the roles of giant-killers.

Playing at top form, the local netter sent John Ritchie, Vancouver, recently-crowned British Columbia closed singles titleholder at Kelowna, to the sidelines in a three-set battle. Bennett took the initial set, 6-4, and after dropping the second, 2-6, rallied to take the third and deciding set, 6-4.

Tom Brown, Bay City netter, eliminated Gunny Ammonette, Berkeley, and seeded No. 3 in the men's singles, in straight sets. The San Francisco netter won the first set, 7-5, and then stroked his way to an easy 6-1 decision in the second set.

Doubles play will start today with a number of matches scheduled. Second round singles are also listed on the day's programme.

Ross Somerville and his Ontario teammates left no doubt of their superiority in the Willingdon Cup golf tournament at the Mount Bruno Country Club, near Montreal. The men from this province not only won top honors, but they set a new record score of 583 in doing so. Above, the team is shown being presented with the prized trophy by J. E. Savard, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association. From left to right, they are: Phil Farley, Jack Nash, Gordon Taylor, Jr., Ross "Sandy" Somerville (captain), and J. E. Savard.

Pennant Appears In Sight for the Cincinnati Squad

Reds Now Twelve Games in Front of Nearest Rival In Great Dash for National League Flag—Won Twenty-Two and Lost Seven Games During July—Pirates in Third Berth

CINCINNATI, July 31 (AP).—A National League pennant for Cincinnati appeared almost "in the bag" today as the Reds, twelve games in front, looked at the record and figured they could play .500 ball from here on and still stand more than a good chance at the play-off.

And if there was a club among seven capable of holding the current pace-setters to that low mark, it didn't show in the July averages.

Despite absence from the line-up, most of the month of Ival Goodman, their extra-base-slugging outfielder, Bill McKechnie's men went through July at a .759 clip, winning twenty-two and losing only seven games to boost their margin eight full games and their standing forty-four points to a ninety-game average of .667.

The only team that approached them in effectiveness was Pittsburgh and the Pirates had to be content with nineteen wins and eleven losses, an average of .633 that lifted them from sixth place on July 1 to a precarious third place rating of .523, where they virtually were tied with Chicago, thirteen games off.

Last year's champions, incidentally, played only .483 ball from July 1, when they had undisputed possession of fourth place with a record of .538.

Resting with other clubs today after a record-tying victory—stretch of four double-headers numbered among ten straight wins, the Rhinelanders had it figured out this way as they looked ahead to sixty-four remaining games:

An even break would give them a season's percentage of .597 on ninety-two games won and sixty-two lost, the identical figure by which the St. Louis Cardinals and Cubs won pennants in 1930 and 1936, respectively.

Boston played .567 ball in winning seventeen of thirty contests, but would have to raise the figure to .781 in the final sixty-four.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

NEWARK, N.J., July 31 (AP).—Heroic pitching by Ivy Paul Andrews, in the ninth inning, with none out and the tying run on second base, enabled Newark Bears to defeat Montreal Royals today, 7-6, in an International League baseball game.

COAST TEAM RALLIES IN FINAL PERIOD TO EARN TIE IN OPENER

Vancouver Footballers Come From Behind With Two Goals in Last Half to Knot Score After Carsteel Had Established Good Lead—Easterners Wilt—Game Wednesday

By WALLY HILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG, July 31 (CP).—Montreal Carsteel and Vancouver Radials battled to a 2-2 tie in the first of a best-of-three Dominion soccer final tonight. Carsteel faded badly after having a 2-0 lead earlier in the second half. Second game will be played Wednesday.

The Carsteel veterans held the younger Radials on even terms in the first half, but wilted badly in the final stanza and the Coasters banged in two counters within thirteen minutes to deadlock the score after it seemed Montreal had the game sewed up.

Brilliant goalkeeping by Tim Gordon, in the Montreal nets, was responsible for the game ending in a draw. Time and again he punched the ball clear after Vancouver's sharp-shooting forwards peppered him with shots near the end of the game. He was given a great hand by the 1,800 spectators.

WINS THE TOSS

Montreal won the toss and elected to play with a slight breeze behind them. Ron Castonguay had the first shot at goal at the one-minute mark but Will Watson saved handily. Paul Castonguay opened the scoring for Montreal at the five-minute mark with a drive to the corner from close in. Vancouver forced a corner but Carsteel cleared nicely.

Johnny MacKay drove a sizzler at Tim Gordon, who made a great save. Liptrott's header just grazed the bar after John Johnson, Radial winger, crossed a nice one in front of Carsteel goal. The game roughened up somewhat and Bill Allison was shaken up after a collision with Liptrott.

Watson made a spectacular save on a shot from Albert Dejshak. Carsteel were pressing hard and Radials seemed disorganized. Carsteel were guilty of two fouls in a row but the free shots went for nought. Liptrott had a good chance with ten minutes to go in the first half when close in, but his shot was wide. Hap Smith, Radials centre, made a nice try at Carsteel's goal but Gordon cleared.

Gordon carried too far without bouncing and from the free kick inside the penalty area he saved nicely again. Play was in Carsteel territory almost continually and the defence was working hard. Paul Castonguay almost added another with a nice header after a Montreal offensive. With five minutes to go in the first half pint-sized Ron Castonguay was giving the crowd a treat with his dribbling and the half ended with the score Montreal 1, Vancouver nothing.

SECOND HALF

The second half started under lights. Radials started off with a rush and Hugh Greer, Vancouver's inside left, placed the ball over the bar from a shot inside the penalty area. Radials forced a corner and the Coasters were unlucky when Liptrott kicked along the goal line and the defence cleared the ball. Ron Castonguay worked his way through Radial's defencemen and scored Montreal's second goal with only eight minutes gone in the last half.

George West replaced Don Cowan at right half-back with twelve minutes gone in an effort to bolster Radials' attack. Hap Smith banged two shots at Gordon but the spectacular Montreal goalie handled them with ease.

Vancouver had two shots in rapid succession, one hitting the post with Gordon well beaten and the other grazing the bar. Montreal played defensive soccer and Radials swarmed in and could do everything but put the ball in the net. Johnny MacKay scored for Radials after taking a perfect pass from Jack Johnson at the twenty-one-minute mark, making the score 2-1 for Carsteel.

Radials played inspired soccer and Carsteel's goal escaped some wicked drives. Bill Cruse went in at inside-right to replace Dejshak when Carsteels again showed signs of faltering with seventeen minutes to go. Norm Kerfoot replaced Liptrott on Radial's left wing at the thirty-minute mark.

George White, Carsteel defenceman, fouled Mackay just outside the penalty area and from the free kick George West brought the teams even, 2-2, at the thirty-four minute mark.

MONTREAL TIRES

Montreal tired badly and Vancouver played them practically to a standstill near the end. Hap Smith tapped the ball over Gordon's head but the sphere just went over the bar. Gordon's leg was injured on the play and the game was held up while he got the necessary repairs. Radials peppered the Carsteels' goal as the final whistle blew.

Montreal—Goal, Tim Gordon; backs, Map Epstien and George White; halfbacks, Bill Allison, Ronald Low, Herb Leah; forwards, Sam Chedzoy, Albert Dejshak, Paul Castonguay, Bill Chambers, Ron Castonguay.

Vancouver—Goal, Bill Watson; backs, George Smith and Tom McKibbon; halfbacks, Don Cowan, Eric Camp, John Johnson; forwards, Jack Johnson, John MacKay, Hap Smith, Hugh Greer, Reg Liptrott.

Referee — A. King, Winnipeg. Linesmen—P. Gillette, W. Kerr, Winnipeg.

"The Magnificent Fraud" Stars Akim Tamiroff, Lloyd Nolan and Mary Boland

Boasting a daring, provocative story, and a cast headed by four of the screen's sensational performers—Akim Tamiroff, Lloyd Nolan, Mary Boland and Patricia Morison—Paramount's new drama, "The Magnificent Fraud," will open at the Dominion Theatre today. Briefly, the story tells how, in a mythical South American country, an actor dares to take the place of a dictator who has been assassinated in a bombing. The actor is forced to do so by a reckless, romantic American, the man behind the dictator, because the young American realizes that the country will not be able to obtain a badly-needed $10,000,000 loan unless the dictator is thought to be alive. Tamiroff plays the dictator-actor; Nolan the young American; Mary Boland an ex-darling of the dictator; while Patricia Morison provides love interest opposite Nolan.

ATLAS THEATRE Gale Sondergaard, who portrays the Empress Eugenie in "Juarez," the historical film which is now showing at the Atlas Theatre, before enacting the role read all the literature she could find dealing with that glamorous lady and found she had some interesting perfume ideas.

CAPITOL THEATRE "Clouds Over Europe," Columbia's romantic drama of Scotland Yard, is now at the Capitol Theatre. Laurence Olivier, whose performance in "Wuthering Heights" made him one of the most talked-of actors on the screen today, is seen as a dashing test pilot who helps to smash a widespread espionage ring.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Love in the Casbah, the colorful native quarter of Algiers, is depicted by Charles Boyer and Sigrid Gurie, in Walter Wanger's romantic drama of that title which is currently showing at the Columbia Theatre.

OAK BAY THEATRE Samuel Goldwyn's "Wuthering Heights," picturized from the great Emily Bronte classic, unfolds scenes of tense drama, stirring romance and stark human emotions. The production, co-starring Merle Oberon, Laurence Olivier and David Niven, is now playing an engagement at the Oak Bay Theatre.

PLAZA THEATRE Victor McLaglen and Douglas Dumbrille battle each other in a fisticuffs encounter during the course of Haj Roach's "Captain Fury," now showing at the Plaza Theatre through United Artists release. Brian Aherne and June Lang are co-starred in this picture of Australia in the early nineteenth century.

JEFF'S PRIDE IN LONGACRES WIN

SEATTLE, July 31 (AP). — Jeff's Pride rounded out the Canadian touch to the racing programme yesterday at Longacres with an easy victory in the feature $1,500 British Columbia Handicap.

The favored horse, owned by J. R. and W. R. Drigger and ridden by its regular jockey, Walter South, won the mile and one-sixteenth in 1.43.4 just short of the track record of 1.42.6. The British Columbia horse arrived only Saturday from Vancouver.

The pari-mutuel pay-off on the winner was $5.30, $3.70 and $3.20; on second-place Dipperconard, $4.30 and $3.20, and on Valiant Boy $5.50 for third.

LADIES' BROAD JUMP

In winning the ladies' broad jump at the Highland Games at Macdonald Park on Saturday, Miss Darline Woodburn, Victoria athlete, set a mark of 16 feet, 10 inches. E. McDermid, Vancouver, placed second and P. Johnson, Victoria, was third.

SENIOR BOXLA GAME TONIGHT

Conservatives and Alert Service Will Meet at Victoria Sports Centre

Defeated 20-14 in their last start against Alert Service, Coach Gus Munroe's Conservatives will be gunning for revenge when these teams meet this evening at the Victoria Sports Centre in a senior box lacrosse fixture. The game will be the headline attraction of a double bill and will get under way at 8:45 o'clock.

Times Terrors and Oaklands, midget stickhandling aggregations, will battle in the curtain-raiser at 7:30 o'clock.

Servicemen's "kid line" brought them through to victory over the green-sweatered Conservatives in the last meeting, when they staged a sensational rally in the last quarter. Tonight Manager Harry Sargison will have his proteges at full strength and feels confident they will make it two straight over the Conservatives.

Coach Gus Munroe's stickhandlers are badly in need of a victory, having yet to register a win since the reorganization of the senior loop. With all of their regulars available, Conservatives figure they are capable of turning back the lighter Alert Service aggregation.

FOX KAYOES HUGHES

PITTSBURGH, July 31 (AP). — Tiger Jack Fox, Spokane, Wash., negro, recently beaten by Mello Bettina, knocked out George Hughes, formerly of California, now living in Pittsburgh, in the third round of their ten-round bout here tonight. He weighed 183, Hughes 190.

Al Condon's Double In Last Frame Ties Up Rithet Cup Game

Timely Clouts Enable Eagles to Gain 7-7 Stalemate With Pitzer & Nex in Senior Baseball Play-Downs—Play Again Tomorrow Evening

DRIVING over the tying marker in the eighth frame, Eagles ball tossers halted temporarily, at least, the championship aspirations of the Pitzer & Nex squad last night at Royal Athletic Park, when they pulled out of the third game of the Rithet Cup series with a 7-7 tie.

It was Al Condon, flashy first-sacker, who really kept the birdmen in the championship play-downs, by crashing out a stinging double in the last inning and scoring Tom Moore from the keystone sack with the run that knotted the score.

Tomorrow evening at Royal Athletic Park the clubs will meet again, Pitzer & Nex, with two victories to their credit, will move into the finals if they are able to add another triumph to their list. Victory for the feathered tribe will necessitate a fifth fixture next Monday.

Last night's ball game provided more thrills than a three-ringed circus, and not one of the fans left the grandstand until the third man was out in the final frame. Forced to fight uphill all evening, the Eagles had the "breaks" in the seventh session when two outfield bobbles paved the way for a pair of badly-needed markers.

Pitzer & Nex were the first to score, and after the birdmen knotted the tally in the fourth session, the gasmen came back with three runs in their half of the next canto. Eagles replied with two markers, and went into the seventh inning on the short end of a 6-5 score.

DAVIES TRIPLES

With two men down, Stan Davies, birdmen's hurler, tripled and scored when Henry Woodford, playing in right field, booted Alec Dick's long, high fly ball to the deep outer gardens. Dick pulled up at the hot corner. Barney Barnswell reached the keystone cushion when Art Chapman had trouble at centre field, and Dick raced across the home plate, giving the Eagles the lead for the first time in the exciting ball game. Bill Yardley grounded out to end the inning.

Fighting back like Trojans, Pitzer & Nex scored two runs in their half of the eighth, again after a pair of batters were out. With the sacks populated by virtue of two singles and a walk, Henry Harris hit the left centre field fence with a stinging double, and Woodford and Leonard scampered home with the tying and leading runs. Lorne Murray flied out to Centre Fielder Paterson to end the frame.

NINETEEN HITS

Nineteen base blows were crashed out, seven of them for extra bases. Gasmen collected eleven safeties, three more than the Eagles, and bunched ten of those in three innings. Birdmen put their safeties together in the same frames.

Gordon Jones, Pitzer & Nex outfielder, pulled off a circus catch in the second frame when he raced in behind the shortstop and picked off a high fly ball from Paterson's bat.

Louis Leonard, young southpaw, doing the hurling for Pitzer & Nex, clouted three safeties, a triple and two singles out of four trips to the plate.

Al Condon was the top sticker for the Eagles, poling out two hits, a double and a single out of three trips.

The game was the most exciting of the series and attracted the season's largest turnout for local baseball.

TO DISCUSS SUSPENSION

Mid-Island Softball Body to Hold Meeting This Evening

NANAIMO, July 31. — The Mid-Island Softball Association is holding an emergency meeting at Duncan, Tuesday night, to discuss the suspension by the British Columbia executive, of the Mid-Island Association and its ruling, debarring the Mid-Island teams from participating in future play-off games this season.

According to Russ Inkster, of Nanaimo, Mid-Island representative, in an interview with The Colonist stated the present attitude of the Mid-Island association will be to ignore the suspension imposed by the British Columbia body and continue to play off all the Mid-Island games.

Inkster states that despite the fact that the Mid-Island association wrote to Secretary Devision, of the British Columbia body, in Vancouver, July 23, stating that it would be impossible for Mid-Island delegates to attend a meeting in Nanaimo July 30, the meeting was held contrary to respect of the Mid-Island association's wishes.

The original trouble arose over an exhibition game played at Saanich by Champion & White, members of the Mid-Island association, and Camerons "A" team of Victoria.

Camerons were later suspended for playing without necessary permission. According to information gathered by the Mid-Island official's here, Victoria claimed Champion & White should have been suspended also, which the Mid-Island association did not agree with, as they had obtained necessary permission from President Bonner of the Mid-Island association.

Mid-Island officials resent what they describe as a one-man decision.

H. ROWEBOTTOM HEADS JUNIORS

Hooking a twenty-one and a quarter-pound salmon on a Martin plug at McKenzie Bay, Howard Rowebottom, young angler, captured top honors in the junior Derby held Sunday at Brentwood by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. He also captured a bronze button for his efforts. Another young fisherman, Harry Jewsbury, came in with the second heaviest catch of the day when he weighed a fifteen-pounder, while Billy Yolden was third on the list with a fourteen and three-eighths-pound salmon, and Bob Redgrave was fourth with one just a quarter of a pound over fourteen. Rowebottom's catch was made at 3.30 in the afternoon.

Bud Peterson took the fifth prize and Alma Hughes headed the girls with a fine eleven-pound fish. Betty Rae Ritchie took the consolation award. More than sixty young anglers took part in the competition, first of its kind held by the association. Forty-three weighed in fish during the day.

Harry Woolston, president of the V.S.I.A.A., presented the prizes, and in doing so thanked the senior members for co-operating in making the event a big success. After the prizes were presented the boys and girls were the guests of George "Joker" Patton at the Anchorage.

EPATANT IN CLOSE WIN

Races to Victory in Feature Event at Saratoga With Longden Up

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y., July 31 (AP). — The tradition of Saratoga, seventy-five years old this meeting, carried through the opening races on the spa's diamond jubilee programme today with a pair of horse owners long identified with racing here holding the trump cards.

A disappointing crowd of approximately eight thousand was in the stands when Mrs. Charles Payson Shipman, daughter of Mrs. Payne Whitney, sent out Epatant as the winner of the Flash Stakes for two-year-olds. Later, Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Nedayr captured the co-feature, the seven-furlong American Legion Handicap.

Epatant was away well under Jockey Johnny Longden, of Tabor, Alta., and made every post a winning one, beating another Whitney entry, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney's Parasang, two lengths at the finish. The race was worth $5,150 to Epatant, whose time was 1:06 1-5 for the five and one-half furlongs.

Nedayr's victory likewise was an end-to-end affair. After disposing of Armor Bearer through the first five furlongs, George Seabo pushed the Kilmer colt to the limit to win a half length from Howard Bruce's Jay Jay, the favorite. George D. Widener's Birch Rod finished third, another half length back.

Kenny Black to Be Given Grand Reception Today

VANCOUVER, July 31 (CP). — A public welcome will be extended Ken Black, Vancouver golfer, who won the Canadian amateur golf crown at Mount Bruno golf course in Quebec on Saturday, when he arrives here by plane on Tuesday.

He will be greeted by members of the City Council and officials of the British Columbia Golf Association. A parade through downtown streets will highlight the welcome, which includes a luncheon tendered by W. C. Woodward, president of the Capilano Golf and Country Club.

Teachers Guests Of Atlas Theatre

Guests of John Garrard, acting manager of the Atlas Theatre, thirty-six members of the Summer School for teachers, under Professor J. E. Hibbard, representing those taking the history course, viewed the afternoon performance yesterday of "Juarez," starring Paul Muni and Bette Davis.

After the performance the teachers heartily endorsed this great historical drama, which has already received the acclaim of the press and teachers' organizations throughout Canada and the United States.

"Juarez" presents an exceptionally fine historical drama dealing with Mexico in the sixties. Paul Muni, winner of many an Academy Award, portrays the Indian patriot, Benito Juarez, who believed in democracy for Mexico and never relaxed his battle against Maximilian, puppet Hapsburg prince placed on the throne of Mexico by Napoleon III. Bette Davis portrays the tragic wife of Maximilian, Carlotta, who goes mad when her bewildered husband is shot by natives, who want a republican form of government. Much of the ideology against dictators and in favor of democracy is applicable to conditions today.

That Body of Yours
by JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

SHOULD PATIENTS BE TOLD THEIR BLOOD PRESSURE AT EACH VISIT?

The story is told of a country physician who had wonderful success in treating pneumonia patients. It was stated by some who thought they knew that this physician called all heavy colds pneumonia, and as practically all cold cases recover anyway, this was the real reason that he was so successful in the treatment of pneumonia.

My own opinion is that this physician knew that if he told the patient that he "just had a cold" he would want to be up and about in a day or two, which would not only mean that the cold would "hang on" but might bring on broncho-pneumonia or pneumonia. In other words, the physician thought it wise to "scare" the patient to prevent complications.

Now that blood pressure is so much discussed, some physicians, if blood pressure is high, try to "scare" their patients into living a "quiet" life, rightly stating that a quiet life may double the length of years on earth. I believe it will be agreed that this may be just the proper advice in some cases. If some patients were allowed to live their own lives they would overwork, overeat, and get over-excited.

Dr. Henry M. Thomas, Jr., Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, in the Baltimore number of Medical Clinics of North America, states:

"It is true that some individuals must be scared into being good, but among the high-pressure group these are few and far between. Many, many more need reassurance, and this comes in the form of optimistic explanation of the cause of high blood pressure. Most patients want to know the actual figures; if the reading is a couple of points above or below the last reading they are relieved or distressed accordingly."

Should the patient be told what his pressure is each time? Most physicians advise that as food, excitement, fatigue, or any temporary condition can affect the blood pressure, the patient should be told that no one reading tells the true or whole story. To prove this to the patient it may be necessary to allow one or two visits to pass without even taking the blood pressure. As Dr. Thomas points out, physicians have followed for years cases with blood pressure of 230 and 250 without any symptoms due to this high blood pressure.

The above should be reassuring to those with high blood pressure. When your physician puts you to bed for a prolonged rest, then you can begin to ask about your blood pressure.

"I am in favor of wine and spirits," said the great financier. "I am an overworked man, and every night after dinner I have forty or fifty letters to write. In these circumstances I find a bottle of champagne with the evening meal a great help."

"Does it help you to answer the letters?"

"No," said the financier, "but after it I don't care a hang whether I answer them or not."

What Today Means

"LEO"

If August 1 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m., and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 a.m., from 6:15 to 8:15 p.m., and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight.

An insatiable desire to meddle in other people's business will make many a person decidedly obnoxious today. You may, however, find many of your personal friends have the gift of being able to attend strictly to their own knitting. The only way you can safely paddle your canoe on this occasion and steer clear of the shallows of misfortune, is to keep your eyes and ears open and your mind alert. Very lonely people are apt to be decidedly irritable, for due to the lack of diversion that fellowship accords their nerves are likely to be on edge and their dispositions will in all probability show it. One of today's greatest difficulties might be the ability to keep your mind upon your work, for apparently there are due to be many attractions to divert it. The mealy-mouthed type of yes-man or woman, who is afraid to voice an opinion of their own for fear of hurting someone's feelings, will get nowhere today, so it will pay to be outspoken and sincere. Married and engaged couples, and the willing victims of Cupid's magic spell, should avail themselves of every opportunity to demonstrate that they are capable of being lovingly considerate.

If a woman and August 1 is your birthday, you are, more than likely a warm-hearted humanitarian, ever ready to help those less fortunate than yourself. Your loyalty to your family and friends is apt to be one of your outstanding qualities. Through your application and concentration on some highly-specialized line of work some excellent results might be achieved by you. You should be an avid reader and well posted on the news of the day. As an accountant, modiste, teacher, singer, professional entertainer, actress, secretary, librarian, author, or sales representative, you ought to find not only a lucrative but a most satisfactory means of making a livelihood. There appear to be no indications of trouble, trials or tribulations, in your matrimonial future.

The child born on August 1 generally has a well-balanced mind, an innate amount of refinement, and a remarkable amount of judgment when it comes to liking or distrusting individuals with whom it is thrown into contact.

If a man, and August 1 is your natal day, your instinct to be at all times a gentleman will frequently prevent your making enemies and will help to make you a prime favorite among those you are closely associated with. The stage, pulpit, literary field, schoolroom, chemical industry, or a specialized line of selling, will, in all likelihood, present the opportunity for you to become well known and prosperous.

CUPID

The young girl had refused the millionaire, who was twice her age. He was very angry. "Even Cupid," said he, "could do nothing with you. You're like an iceberg. Why, a hundred Cupids might shoot at you all day long. Not one arrow would make any impression on your stone-cold heart." "Not if they used an old beau," retored the girl.

The doctor, cycling on his vacation, was on unfamiliar ground and directly before him a fork in the road with no sign post to tell him which way to go.

"Which way to Stampville?" he asked a dejected-looking man who was leaning against the fence.

The man waved his hand towards the left.

"Thanks," said the motorcyclist. "How far is it?"

"Tain't far," was the drawling reply. "When you get there you'll wish it was a darn sight farther."

"Don't scrape the butter so hard on the bread, mother. There are people living underneath." — En Rolig Half Timma, Gothenburg.

"Ada, my dear, can I rest for a while?"

"Yes, there are no birds about now."—Interessante Blatt, Vienna.

5 IN MEMORIAM

HANCOCK—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Joseph (Joe) S. Hancock, who passed away on August 1, 1928.

Time speeds on, one year has passed
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast
Within our home, where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light and ever will,
His vacant place there is none to fill.
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in Heaven we will meet again.
He had a nature you could not help loving,
And a heart that was purer than gold,
And to those who knew him and loved him,
His memory will never grow cold.

—Inserted by his loving mother and brothers and sisters.

DICK METZ TOPS FIELD

Chicago Golf Professional Captures St. Paul Open With 270 Score

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 31 (AP).—Looking at Dick Metz' score in the $7,500 St. Paul open golf tournament today, you get the idea the game is a very simple pastime after all.

Just hit them down the middle, on the green in two on the par four's, in one on the par three's, in three, and occasionally two, on the par five's and never more than two putts and what do you have? Well, Metz had 270 strokes, which was eighteen under par and won first place, as well as $1,600, in the three-day tournament ending Sunday.

But before you relax, satisfied that golf is a push-over, it might be best to contemplate the Chicago professional's four rounds of 68-66-68-68 broke Harry Cooper's four-year-old record for the open here by a stroke and established the lowest score carded this year in a professional golfers' tournament.

WELL IN FRONT

Also it was five strokes ahead of second place Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., the P.G.A. champion, who collected $1,050. This kept Picard at the top of the year's money winners with $9,527, but Metz pushed into second place with $8,223, displacing Byron Nelson, Reading, Pa., the United States and Western open champion, who ended up in a tie for tenth and eleventh places with Ernie Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., at 281.

They each won $205, which raised Nelson's winnings for the year to $7,628 and left him with a third place in the national standings.

A stroke back of Picard at 275 was Lloyd Mangrum, Los Angeles, who won $800, while affable Ed Dudley, Philadelphia, came in with 277 and got $600.

Pirates Purchase Syracuse Pitcher For Large Amount

PITTSBURGH, July 31 (AP).—The Pirates announced today they had outbid five other major league clubs for the "biggest man in baseball," Pitcher John A. Gee, Jr., of the Syracuse International League club.

Gee, six feet 9 inches tall and weighing 215 pounds, is a southpaw. He is twenty-three and joined the Syracuse team direct from the University of Michigan in 1937. In 1938 he won seventeen and lost eleven games. This season he has won sixteen and lost four.

President William Benswanger, the Pirate office disclosed, paid "cash running well into five figures and four players to be delivered next year." The Giants, Cubs, Yankees, Reds and Senators had all bid for Gee.

Gee will join the Pirates at the end of the International League season, September 10.
